Pittsburgh Rioting Now Under Control

Tributes Honor Dr. King

An estimated 120 took part in a silent march in tribute to the slain Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in East Liverpool Sunday afternoon, one of a series of area memorials for the civil rights leader.

About 130 attended a special service at Midland yesterday afternoon, while 50 participated in another special program held by the city's NAACP Saturday night at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

Throughout the nation, thousands of Negroes and whites eulogized Dr. King as the national day of mouring proclaimed by President Johnson was observed.

At Memphis, Tenn., where King was felled last Thursday by a sniper's bullet, the peaceful march he had planned for today was to be headed by aides and possibly his widow.

POPE PAUL, while celebrating Palm Sunday Mass in St. Peter's Basilica, said of King, "We shall associate his memory with that of the tragic story of the Passion of Christ."

U.N. Secretary - General U Thant told some 2,500 persons at a memorial service in The Hague, the Netherlands: "I share the deep sense of shock with you."

The silent march here from the post office along 5th St. and 6th St. was organized by the Citizens For Total Action, headed by Mrs. Ann Pack, president.

The procession halted for a brief time at the City Hall, where Municipal Judge Samuel Chertoff spoke of Dr. King and the tragic consequences of his death, and said Americans must continue to work for the end of discrimination. The Rev. D. Ross Salisbury of St. Stephen's Church gave prayer.

UPON RETURN to the post office, the group sang "We Shall Overcome," and then was dismissed by the Rev. Albert Ross of the New Hope Baptist Church.

Dr. King's slaying serves as a warning and a challenge, some 130 were told at a memorial service for him at Midland Sunday afternoon.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Authorities said today they believe three days of arson and looting in Pittsburgh's Hill District has been brought under control, but 3,000 National Guardsmen and 1,000 city and state police remained on duty in the Negro neighborhood.

"I would say the situation is under control," said City Safety Director David W. Craig at a news conference held at dawn. "But as to its permanency, I will have to make a decision on that later in the day."

The wave of fire bombings, window smashings and looting broke out Friday night following the Memphis assassination of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. But it was not until Sunday that the National Guard and state troopers were moved into the Hill District to reinforce Pittsburgh police.

Calm Before Dawn

Both Craig and Lt. Col. Joseph Dussia, deputy commissioner of state police, pointed out that there had been relative calm in the predawn hours today.

Craig said the violence followed a "pattern of individually inclined hoodlums." He said there was no indication of prodding by agitators or outside organizations.

Earlier in the night, gangs of vandals pitched firebombs and stormed liquor stores. A lumber yard burned down in the Strip District, adjacent to the troubled Hill District.

Residents Jittery

Police investigated dozens of complaints from jittery residents worried about prowlers, suspicious cars and even the possibility the drinking water reservoir had been poisoned.

But few of the reports amounted to much after midnight.

The streets along the Hill, where 50,000 Negroes live in a ghetto that covers not much more than a square mile, were almost deserted except for the troops.

Six to a dozen guardsmen or state police stood at every intersection on the hill with bayonets at the ready.

Crowds that taunted the troops and peppered them with rocks when they took positions Sunday melted away as a 7 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew was enforced.

Guards Given Coffee

Some residents even brought coffee to the men standing guard.

The Guard said it had 1,300 men on the streets and another 1,700 in reserve or rotating under terms of a state of emergency declared by Gov. Raymond Shafer.

Police said 712 persons had been arrested and 168 fires started since the trouble started Friday following the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

However, most of the fires were spotted and controlled quickly. Many were only brush fires or garbage cans.

In the Hill's 12 main business blocks only nine stores were destroyed by fire. Twelve were stripped by looters. Probably six times that many, all bearing "Soul Brother" signs, were left untouched.

Most of the looting took place after owners told police they no longer cared about protecting their businesses. In at least three cases, the owners opened the doors to the looters.

Several Injured

Fifty-two persons were treated for injuries during the trouble, including eight police and firemen. Less than a half-dozen were admitted to hospitals. One was burned and one was shot.

The violence, first in the city's history, was no Detroit or Newark. There were no fires that wiped out blocks. Few homes were destroyed.

Police said the vandals probably numbered less than 1,000 citywide. There was no evidence they were organized, officials said.

Civil rights activists said the trouble was the culmination of frustrations that ghetto Negroes feel in any big city. The death of Dr. King, said one, was the last straw for many who had been waiting for things to improve.

5 Day Curfew Set

The curfew and state of emergency were set for five days. That meant no one except doctors, police and people going to work were allowed on the streets between 7 p.m. and 5 a.m.

During the day no group of 10 persons or more was allowed together. Restaurants and stores closed at 7. Bars and state stores had been ordered shut on Saturday.

Downtown Pittsburgh streets were deserted by 6 p.m. Sunday. Private armed guards patrolled at least one big department store.

Street Littered

The main street in the Hill, Centre Ave., was littered with tons of broken glass, cardboard boxes, paper, charred wood, smashed fruit and odd items dropped by the looters.

LBJ Seeks Passage Of Rights Bill

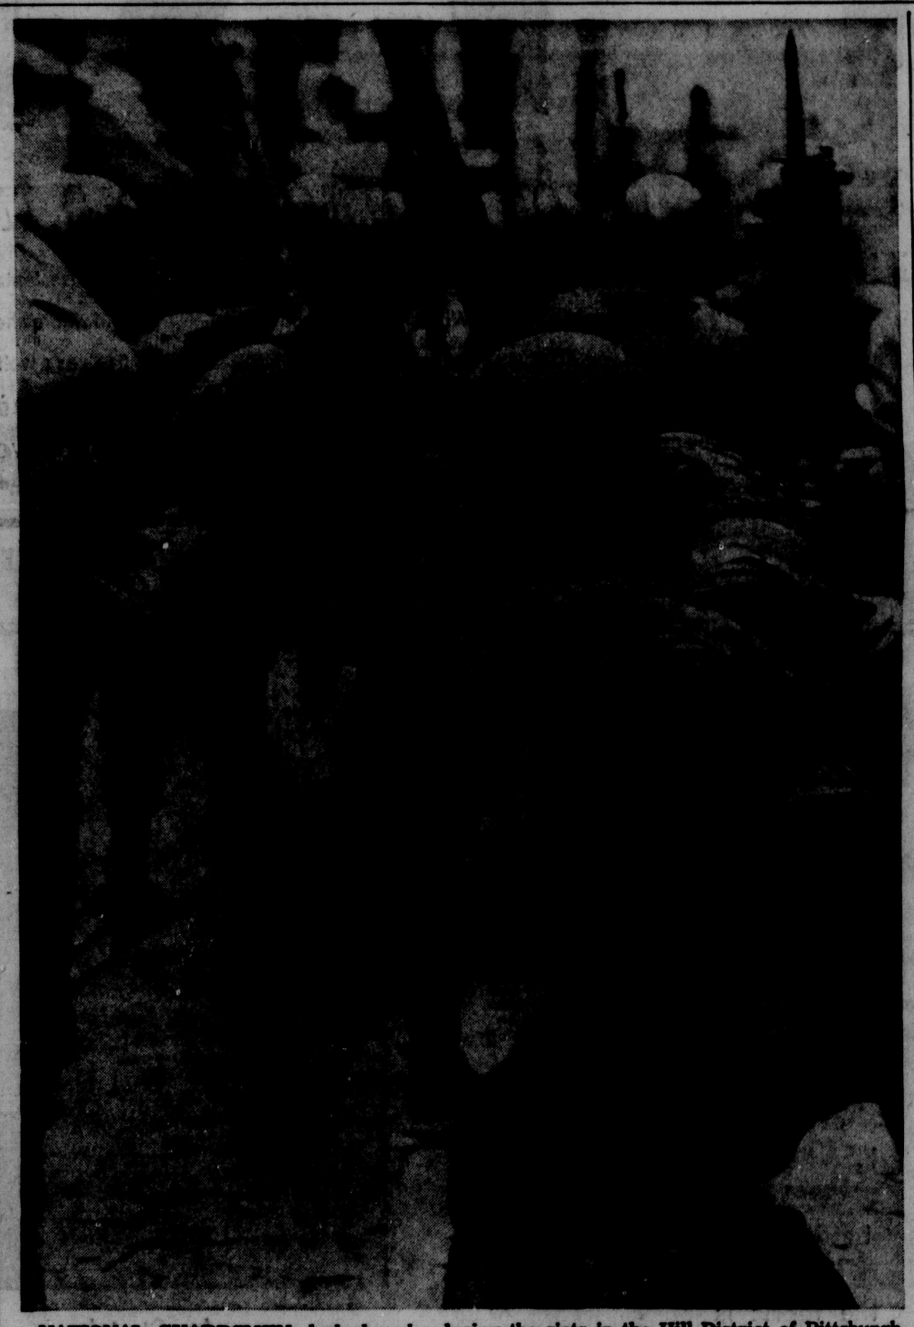

Congress Could Act On Proposal Later This Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has dispatched urgent appeals to congressional leaders for swift passage of his civil rights bill.

The new pleas for legislative speed were disclosed by government officials Sunday night just after Johnson ordered 2,000 Army regulars to Baltimore. Washington was quieting with 11,000 troopers in her streets; 5,000 more patrolled Chicago.

There were signs that Congress, jarred by the looting, burning and violence almost on its doorstep, would heed Johnson's plea and seek House action this week on the Senate-passed civil rights bill.

House Republican Leader Gerald Ford indicated he might drop his opposition to an early vote, but made no promise. He guaranteed only that he would make an early decision.

NATIONAL GUARDSMEN ducked rocks during the riots in the Hill District of Pittsburgh over the weekend. Guardsmen and State Troopers were called out to assist police in quelling the disorders. A five day curfew has been placed on the city, which was fairly peaceful today.

Thousands Pay Tribute To Dr. King

They came by the thousands to pay final tribute to the civil rights leader, who will be buried Tuesday after services at Ebenezer Baptist Church, where King served as pastor with his father.

Sleep In Churches

Some slept on cots in church basements. Some moved in with Atlanta families. Others found rooms at hotels.

But they came, to stay until King is laid to rest in South View Cemetery, founded in 1900 by Negroes who rebelled against the city's segregation. Negroes then had to take their dead through the back entrance of the main cemetery.

Judge Louis Tobin of Juvenile Court issued a public warning that anyone harboring the lad will be prosecuted to the limit of the law.

Masked Man Robs Worker At Tollhouse

Police Investigate Attempted Entries In Business Area

An armed man wearing a stocking mask obtained only $10 when he held up an attendant at the tollhouse at the Ohio end of the Newell Bridge shortly before midnight Sunday, police reported.

Lewis Deshler of 222 W. 6th St., the tolltaker, said the pistol-wielding bandit forced him to lie on the floor of the little office building at the span, then rifled a drawer of a cigar box containing a $5 bill, three $1 bills and $2 in change, leaving behind another $10 in change.

The stickup was timed at 11:20. The bandit, characterized by Deshler as "courteous at all times," was described as about 5 feet, 10 inches and wearing a woman's silk stocking pulled over his head as a mask.

Deshler told police he was talking on the phone with his son, Dan, when he heard a window break in the office a short distance from the toll booth.

In North Vietnam

Off Limits Area Changed Again

SAIGON (AP) — President Johnson has put almost 5,500 more square miles of North Vietnam off limits to American bombers, U.S. sources said today. Below the demilitarized zone, allied ground forces reported killing more than 700 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong in weekend fighting.

Informed sources in Saigon said the American air forces have been told to keep their raids below the 19th Parallel, which is about 170 miles above the demilitarized zone. In the last four days U.S. bombers have struck no farther north than 160 miles above the DMZ.

Publicly, Johnson's order of March 31 setting the 20th Parallel as the northern boundary for air attacks still stands, and the sources said the President did not publicize the new curtailment because he wanted to leave open the option of bombing up to the 20th Parallel, or some 225 miles above the DMZ.

The U.S. Command in Saigon declined comment on the reported new bombing limits. In Washington, assistant White House press secretary Tom Johnson said there is no change from the March 31 order.

Strikes Doubled

Although the area open to attack has been reduced, U.S. warplanes have more than doubled the pre-curtailment number of strike missions against North Vetnam's southern panhandle, mostly against enemy supply lines and convoys.

Jet Crashes After Takeoff

LONDON (AP)—A British jet liner with 131 passengers plus crew dropped an engine on take off from London today and crashed in flames. An airline spokesman said everyone on board survived.

The plane was a Boeing 707 jet operated by British Overseas Airways Corp. Two minutes after takeoff for Zurich its pilot radioed that its port wing was afire.

Rodak Quits District Race; For Mollohan

Hancock County Sheriff Joe Rodak has dropped out of the Democratic primary race in the First Congressional District, throwing his support to Robert H. Mollohan.

Rodak made the announcement at a "meet your candidate" gathering in Fairmont during the weekend.

"Robert Mollohan . . . is the one man who can bring complete unity to the Democratic party in the district," said Rodak. He cited increased family responsibilities and lack of time to conduct a proper campaign as his reasons for withdrawing from the congressional race.

Rodak's withdrawal leaves six candidates competing for the Democratic nomination for congressman in the First District. The seat is being vacated by Rep. Arch Moore Jr., who is campaigning for the Republican nomination for governor.

Officers List 5 Mishaps In City Weekend

East Liverpool police investigated five traffic mishaps during the weekend.

Only one person was injured —a 4-year-old Lisbon St. girl who ran into the side of an auto near her home early Saturday night.

Lana Sue Knight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Knight Jr. of 914 Lisbon St., was treated at Osteopathic Hospital for bumps and bruises suffered in the mishap Saturday at 6:15 p.m. in the 900 block of Lisbon St.

James R. Shaw, 19, of 1352 Bates St. told police he was driving north about 25 miles an hour when he saw the child run into the street. Shaw said he swerved sharply to the left and halted the car and the child ran into the vehicle. Lane Sue was taken to the hospital by her father.

A DRIVERLESS car drifted from a parking place and hit another parked auto on the Thorofare Market parking lot on Pennsylvania Ave. Saturday at 8:33 p.m., police said.

The 1959 sedan owned by Carl R. Ludwig of Smiths Ferry RD 1 coasted about 50 yards on the lot and struck a 1963 sedan owned by Clara Pauline Cestaric of 138½ W. 4th St., officers said. The right rear fender of the Cestaric car was damaged.

Two autos were damaged in a mishap on Pennsylvania Ave. 50 feet west of Flint Alley Saturday at 4:03 p.m.

The collision involved a parked 1965 sedan owned by Melvin Kidder of 1166 Pennsylvania Ave. and a 1960 sedan operated by Ruth Elizabeth Hissom of 1857 Dresden Ave., officers said.

A woman telephoned police headquarters and reported she had just witnessed a hit-skip accident involving Kidder's car. Patrolman Charles Coen said he obtained a license number and description that led him to the Hissom car, which he found on Dresden Ave. After talking to the Hissom woman, it was determined she was involved in the mishap, but did not know of it because "the impact was only a small one," he reported. No citations were issued.

A PARKED van-type truck was damaged in a mishap Sunday at 12:30 p.m. on a Washington St. parking lot, officers said.

A backing 1967 sedan driven by Ralph F. Wilson, 30, of 633 Jefferson St. bumped the rear door of a parked 1967 model truck owned by the Carriage House of E. 5th St., officers said.

Another minor mishap on E. 4th St. at Broadway Saturday at 4 p.m. involved a 1965 sedan driven by Robert J. Stoffel, 52, of 744 Minerva St. and a 1968 sedan operated by Linda S. Robinson, 16, of Substation.

'Declines' Jail Sentence

Pittsburgh Driver Fined In 90-Mile Freeway Pace

A 30-year-old Pittsburgh motorist was fined $25 and costs after pleading guilty today before fore Municipal Judge Samuel M. Cheritoff on a charge of speeding 90 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the Freeway, but "declined" a three - day jail term as an alternative to possible suspension of his operator's permit.

Joseph A. George of Pittsburgh was cited Thursday at 2:07 a.m. on the city section of the California Hollow highway by the Ohio Highway Patrol. Questioned by the court about the fast pace, he replied that: "It was late at night and I was on my way home."

AFTER assessing the fine, the judge asked George to turn over his operator's license to be forwarded to the Pennsylvania Bureau of Motor Vehicles "for appropriate action." When the driver began to remonstrate, the court said: "I will give you the alternative of serving three days in the County Jail." George said he would prefer to take his chances with the agency in Harrisburg.

Jerry L. Tate, 19, of Brilliant, cited Saturday at 5:10 p.m. on a charge of driving 80 miles an hour in a 70-mile zone, forfeited a $27.50 appearance bond. He was arrested at 5:10 p.m. on Route 30 by the patrol.

Robert M. Duffield, 19, of 1525 Commerce St., Wellsville, was fined $15 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone. He was cited by the patrol March 29 at 6:55 p.m. on Route 7.

A HEARING was slated later today for Nina C. Groves, 35, of 1020 Commerce St., Wellsville, cited April 1 at 9:40 p.m. by the patrol on a charge of failure to halt for a stop sign at the junction of State Route 170 and Route 30.

George Williams of Newcomerstown, Ohio, forfeited a $27.50 bond on a charge of speeding 50 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone. He was cited Saturday at 3:36 p.m. on St. Clair Ave. by Patrolman Charles Coen.

Seven out - of - town motorists accused of driving the wrong way in a one - way section of Persimmon Alley forfeited $17.50 each — a total of $122.50. They were cited over the weekend for traveling north in the section of the alley which connects the Freeway and W. 5th St. near the Newell Bridge. The alley frequently is used as a shortcut by Waterford Park Race Track fans.

The defendants were listed as: Samuel Eshelman of Parma, Bruce W. Bott of East Palestine, John Farmantino of Sharon, Ernest Kollmayer of Hubbard, Arthur Diorio of Youngstown, John Gabriel of New Castle and Harold E. Peters of Warren.

Holdup

He told his son to "wait a minute" and laid down the phone while he left to investigate.

Deshler said he was met by a man wielding a pistol who told him to go into the office and lie down on the floor. Deshler said he stretched out on the floor just inside the door, but the gunman told him to crawl into a corner, which he did.

The gunman went to the toll booth and took the cigar box containing the money. He left behind $10 in change in the office.

East Liverpool police also investigated attempted weekend burglaries at three business buildings within a short distance of each other in the downtown area and entries of a W. 4th St. grocery and a Fair St. home.

The attempted entries, both unsuccessful, took place early Sunday morning at the Mary Carter paint store on Market St. below 4th St. and at the Ohio Power Co.'s truck garage in W. Church Ln., at the rear of the utility's W. 5th St. offices, police reported.

Police received a report at 2:53 a.m. Sunday that unknown persons were attempting to force a door at the paint store. A woman who lives near by heard the noise and telephoned Charles Leon, the owner, who notified police. Officers said the intruders were frightened away. The attempted entry was made with some tool such as a crowbar, officers said.

About the same time, Lt. Paul A. Burson Jr. discovered the attempted entry at the Ohio Power garage. He said someone attempted to break in through the rear door. A tool such as a crowbar also was used on the garage door.

Meanwhile, Jess Buzzard of 2898 Fair St. told officers an intruder entered his home between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m. Sunday and stole a 12-gauge single shot shotgun and a box containing fishing tackle worth about $15.

The intruder first tried to force entry by prying off the lock on a door on the east side of the home, Buzzard said. When the first attempt failed, the intruder broke a pane of glass in the same door and apparently crawled through the opening, officers said.

An attempted entry was discovered this morning at the Western Union Telegraph Co. office at 321 Market St. — next door to the paint store.

Mrs. Pauline Walton, the manager, said the attempt was made sometime during the weekend by a person who tried unsuccessfully to pry open a side door. The door showed pry marks, but it had not been opened, police said. Officers said the attempted entry probably was made about the same time as the attempt to enter the paint store.

Meanwhile, Fred Rayl, owner of Rayl's Market at 246 W. 4th St., told police an intruder who forced his way into the grocery early this morning escaped with a half gallon of Scotch, $500 worth of food coupons and an undetermined quantity of cigarettes and beer.

The intruder pried open a window on the south side of the building, then took the food coupons from a filing cabinet, officers said.

The entry was timed between 2 a.m., when a janitor finished work, and 7:44 a. m.

Midland Police Chief Warns On Loitering

Midland Police Chief Ed Stefl has issued a warning against groups loitering on sidewalks.

He said he has received a number of complaints from residents who have had to leave the sidewalks to get around groups of young people.

He urged parents to inform their children of the action.

10 Injured In Mishaps On Weekend

Ten were injured — two of them hospitalized — as the result of four traffic mishaps on area highways over the weekend, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reports.

Four were hurt Sunday at 6 p.m. when a 1964 station wagon operated by Albert D. Bragg, 18, of New Cumberland, southbound on Dewey Ave. Ext., just north of the city limits, went left of center and struck a 1961 coach operated by Bruce A. Powell, 26, of 630 River Rd.

Bragg was cited for reckless operation.

In "fair" condition at City Hospital with possible internal injuries was Albert Dexter Bragg, son of Aaron Bragg.

Treated at City Hospital were two passengers in the Bragg auto — James H. Heffner, 17, son of Robert Heffner of 1077 Cleveland Ave., abrasions of the forehead and slight lacerations, and Lester A. Bragg, 17, son of Lester Bragg of 1129 Harker Ave.

A mother and her two children were injured in a two-car mishap Sunday on Route 7 in Rogers.

Injured were Penny L. Mays, 31, and her daughter, Melanie, 8, and son Bruce, 12. The car in which they were passengers, operated by Bruce E. Mays, 33, of McIntosh Rd., was struck by a 1962 sedan turning west into the path of the Mays auto, officers reported.

Also injured in the mishap was Aaron Quetot, 3, a passenger in the 1962 sedan operated by Barbara W. Quetot, 30, of Rogers RD 1.

Two others were injured as the result of a one - car mishap Saturday on Route 170 about four miles south of County Rd. 430.

In "fair" condition at City Hospital was Thomas L. Kelly, 17, son of Richard A. Kelly of Apples Corners, multiple lacerations of the face and right ear, abrasions of the right lower leg, and contusions of the head.

Also injured was a passenger in the Kelly auto — John A. Duffy, 18, of 822 Riverview St.

Kelly was cited for reckless operation by the patrol after his 1957 coach, southbound, went off the right side of the roadway, traveled 90 feet, struck the guardrail destroying six posts and 120 feet of cable, continued on for another 90 feet, went over an embankment and came to rest at the bottom.

The first midnight high mass was heard at the Cathedral of Notre Dame in Paris.

'Declines' Jail Sentence

Pittsburgh Driver Fined In 90-Mile Freeway Pace

A 30-year-old Pittsburgh motorist was fined $25 and costs after pleading guilty today before fore Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of speeding 90 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the Freeway, but "declined" a three - day jail term as an alternative to possible suspension of his operator's permit.

Joseph A. George of Pittsburgh was cited Thursday at 2:07 a.m. on the city section of the California Hollow highway by the Ohio Highway Patrol. Questioned by the court about the fast pace, he replied that: "It was late at night and I was on my way home."

AFTER assessing the fine, the judge asked George to turn over his operator's license to be forwarded to the Pennsylvania Bureau of Motor Vehicles "for appropriate action." When the driver began to remonstrate, the court said: "I will give you the alternative of serving three days in the County Jail." George said he would prefer to take his chances with the agency in Harrisburg.

Jerry L. Tate, 19, of Brilliant, cited Saturday at 5:10 p.m. on a charge of driving 80 miles an hour in a 70-mile zone, forfeited a $27.50 appearance bond. He was arrested at 5:10 p.m. on Route 30 by the patrol.

Robert M. Duffield, 19, of 1525 Commerce St., Wellsville, was fined $15 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone. He was cited by the patrol March 29 at 6:55 p.m. on Route 7.

A HEARING was slated later today for Nina C. Groves, 35, of 1020 Commerce St., Wellsville, cited April 1 at 9:40 p.m. by the patrol on a charge of failure to halt for a stop sign at the junction of State Route 170 and Route 30.

George Williams of Newcomerstown, Ohio, forfeited a $27.50 bond on a charge of speeding 50 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone. He was cited Saturday at 3:36 p.m. on St. Clair Ave. by Patrolman Charles Coen.

Seven out - of - town motorists accused of driving the wrong way in a one - way section of Persimmon Alley forfeited $17.50 each — a total of $122.50. They were cited over the weekend for traveling north in the section of the alley which connects the Freeway and W. 5th St. near the Newell Bridge. The alley frequently is used as a shortcut by Waterford Park Race Track fans.

The defendants were listed as: Samuel Eshelman of Parma, Bruce W. Bott of East Palestine, John Farmantino of Sharon, Ernest Kollmayer of Hubbard, Arthur Diorio of Youngstown, John Gabriel of New Castle and Harold E. Peters of Warren.

Officers List 5 Mishaps In City Weekend

East Liverpool police investigated five traffic mishaps during the weekend.

Only one person was injured —a 4-year-old Lisbon St. girl who ran into the side of an auto near her home early Saturday night.

Lana Sue Knight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Knight Jr. of 914 Lisbon St., was treated at Osteopathic Hospital for bumps and bruises suffered in the mishap Saturday at 6:15 p.m. in the 900 block of Lisbon St.

James R. Shaw, 19, of 1352 Bates St. told police he was driving north about 25 miles an hour when he saw the child run into the street. Shaw said he swerved sharply to the left and halted the car and the child ran into the vehicle. Lane Sue was taken to the hospital by her father.

A DRIVERLESS car drifted from a parking place and hit another parked auto on the Thorofare Market parking lot on Pennsylvania Ave. Saturday at 8:33 p.m., police said.

The 1959 sedan owned by Carl R. Ludwig of Smiths Ferry RD 1 coasted about 50 yards on the lot and struck a 1963 sedan owned by Clara Pauline Cestaric of 138½ W. 4th St., officers said. The right rear fender of the Cestaric car was damaged.

Two autos were damaged in a mishap on Pennsylvania Ave. 50 feet west of Flint Alley Saturday at 4:03 p.m.

The collision involved a parked 1965 sedan owned by Melvin Kidder of 1166 Pennsylvania Ave. and a 1960 sedan operated by Ruth Elizabeth Hissom of 1857 Dresden Ave., officers said.

A woman telephoned police headquarters and reported she had just witnessed a hit-skip accident involving Kidder's car. Patrolman Charles Coen said he obtained a license number and description that led him to the Hissom car, which he found on Dresden Ave. After talking to the Hissom woman, it was determined she was involved in the mishap, but did not know of it because "the impact was only a small one," he reported. No citations were issued.

A PARKED van-type truck was damaged in a mishap Sunday at 12:30 p.m. on a Washington St. parking lot, officers said.

A backing 1967 sedan driven by Ralph F. Wilson, 30, of 633 Jefferson St. bumped the rear door of a parked 1967 model truck owned by the Carriage House of E. 5th St., officers said.

Another minor mishap on E. 4th St. at Broadway Saturday at 4 p.m. involved a 1965 sedan driven by Robert J. Stoffel, 52, of 744 Minerva St. and a 1968 sedan operated by Linda S. Robinson, 16, of Substation.

Holdup

He told his son to "wait a minute" and laid down the phone while he left to investigate.

Deshler said he was met by a man wielding a pistol who told him to go into the office and lie down on the floor. Deshler said he stretched out on the floor just inside the door, but the gunman told him to crawl into a corner, which he did.

The gunman went to the toll booth and took the cigar box containing the money. He left behind $10 in change in the office.

East Liverpool police also investigated attempted weekend burglaries at three business buildings within a short distance of each other in the downtown area and entries of a W. 4th St. grocery and a Fair St. home.

The attempted entries, both unsuccessful, took place early Sunday morning at the Mary Carter paint store on Market St. below 4th St. and at the Ohio Power Co.'s truck garage in W. Church Ln., at the rear of the utility's W. 5th St. offices, police reported.

Police received a report at 2:53 a.m. Sunday that unknown persons were attempting to force a door at the paint store. A woman who lives near by heard the noise and telephoned Charles Leon, the owner, who notified police. Officers said the intruders were frightened away. The attempted entry was made with some tool such as a crowbar, officers said.

About the same time, Lt. Paul A. Burson Jr. discovered the attempted entry at the Ohio Power garage. He said someone attempted to break in through the rear door. A tool such as a crowbar also was used on the garage door.

Meanwhile, Jess Buzzard of 2898 Fair St. told officers an intruder entered his home between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m. Sunday and stole a 12-gauge single shot shotgun and a box containing fishing tackle worth about $15.

The intruder first tried to force entry by prying off the lock on a door on the east side of the home, Buzzard said. When the first attempt failed, the intruder broke a pane of glass in the same door and apparently crawled through the opening, officers said.

An attempted entry was discovered this morning at the Western Union Telegraph Co. office at 321 Market St. — next door to the paint store.

Mrs. Pauline Walton, the manager, said the attempt was made sometime during the weekend by a person who tried unsuccessfully to pry open a side door. The door showed pry marks, but it had not been opened, police said. Officers said the attempted entry probably was made about the same time as the attempt to enter the paint store.

Meanwhile, Fred Rayl, owner of Rayl's Market at 246 W. 4th St., told police an intruder who forced his way into the grocery early this morning escaped with a half gallon of Scotch, $500 worth of food coupons and an undetermined quantity of cigarettes and beer.

The intruder pried open a window on the south side of the building, then took the food coupons from a filing cabinet, officers said.

The entry was timed between 2 a.m., when a janitor finished work, and 7:44 a. m.

Midland Police Chief Warns On Loitering

Midland Police Chief Ed Stefl has issued a warning against groups loitering on sidewalks.

He said he has received a number of complaints from residents who have had to leave the sidewalks to get around groups of young people.

He urged parents to inform their children of the action.

10 Injured In Mishaps On Weekend

Ten were injured — two of them hospitalized — as the result of four traffic mishaps on area highways over the weekend, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reports.

Four were hurt Sunday at 6 p.m. when a 1964 station wagon operated by Albert D. Bragg, 18, of New Cumberland, southbound on Dewey Ave. Ext., just north of the city limits, went left of center and struck a 1961 coach operated by Bruce A. Powell, 26, of 630 River Rd.

Bragg was cited for reckless operation.

In "fair" condition at City Hospital with possible internal injuries was Albert Dexter Bragg, son of Aaron Bragg.

Treated at City Hospital were two passengers in the Bragg auto — James H. Heffner, 17, son of Robert Heffner of 1077 Cleveland Ave., abrasions of the forehead and slight lacerations, and Lester A. Bragg, 17, son of Lester Bragg of 1129 Harker Ave.

A mother and her two children were injured in a two-car mishap Sunday on Route 7 in Rogers.

Injured were Penny L. Mays, 31, and her daughter, Melanie, 8, and son Bruce, 12. The car in which they were passengers, operated by Bruce E. Mays, 33, of McIntosh Rd., was struck by a 1962 sedan turning west into the path of the Mays auto, officers reported.

Also injured in the mishap was Aaron Quetot, 3, a passenger in the 1962 sedan operated by Barbara W. Quetot, 36, of Rogers RD 1.

Two others were injured as the result of a one - car mishap Saturday on Route 170 about four miles south of County Rd. 430.

In "fair" condition at City Hospital was Thomas L. Kelly, 17, son of Richard A. Kelly of Apples Corners, multiple lacerations of the face and right ear, abrasions of the right lower leg, and contusions of the head.

Also injured was a passenger in the Kelly auto — John A. Duffy, 18, of 822 Riverview St.

Kelly was cited for reckless operation by the patrol after his 1957 coach, southbound, went off the right side of the roadway, traveled 90 feet, struck the guardrail destroying six posts and 120 feet of cable, continued on for another 90 feet, went over an embankment and came to rest at the bottom.

The first midnight high mass was heard at the Cathedral of Notre Dame in Paris.

Meaning Of The Tributes

Theme of the touching memorial tributes to Dr. Martin Luther King in East Liverpool, Midland and elsewhere over the weekend was that the work of the martyred civil rights leader must go on, the non-violent effort to achieve equal opportunity for all, regardless of color, must be continued.

Responsible blacks joined with whites in condemning the lawlessness, the utterly cruel destruction, death and degradation which marked outbreaks of violence in the large cities.

But as one observer commented, people who have been treated as fourth class citizens for generations cannot be expected to act other than as fourth class citizens.

Most of the looters and vandals were no more reacting directly to the slaying of Dr. King than they were to the hysterical outcries of Stokeley Carmichael—they were just getting what they could while they could. But they are a symptom of our times, just as the "invisible fence" to which the Rev. Oscar Arnal of Industry referred is a part of our times.

President Johnson, Congressmen, state leaders realize as do all responsible Negroes and Whites that the murder at Memphis focuses new attention on the need to make civil rights workable in all communities and at all levels.

The burning and looting at Pittsburgh, Washington and Chicago cannot be condoned. But neither can the conditions from which have grown the discontent and the despoilers.

Self-Service Censorship

The Post Office Department is publishing a brief leaflet, "How You Can Curb Pandering Advertisements." Plans for administering a special amendment to the Postal Revenue and Federal Salary Act of 1967 has been announced in postal bulletins sent to all post offices.

Under the new law, which goes into effect April 15, a family which finds an advertisement sent through the mails offensively erotic will be able to ask a postmaster to direct the mailer to send no more mail to him. He can also ask that his name be removed from all lists the mailer owns, controls, or rents.

Timothy J. May, Post Office Department general counsel, said "This new law should give some protection to the American families offended on occasion by unsolicited advertisements they believe to be morally harmful, particularly to their children. In the last fiscal year the Post Office Department received some 100,000 complaints from those offended by pandering advertisements."

The same Timothy May told Congress, just before it passed the self-censorship measure last year, that the new law might "wreck the machinery of large business mailers in the country, plunge the postal system into chaos, and . . . destroy the direct-mail advertising industry." Ironically, the law wasn't intended to cut back direct-mail advertising. It was supposed to throw a block at the rising thrust of mail pornographers.

The new law, says John J. Daly, vice president of the Direct Mail Advertising Association, is "administratively unworkable and probably unconstitutional." Those closest to the bill admitted that it might create an administrative chaos. But, as one congressional aide put it: "Congress was just fed up with all the filth in the mails and rammed the thing through."

The measure provides that any person who receives through the mail any advertisement that he considers "erotically arousing or sexually provocative" may demand that the postmaster general prohibit the sender from ever again mailing anything to him. The law gives the recipient "sole discretion" in deciding which ads are offensive. If the mailer fails to respect the order to desist, the postmaster general may ask the attorney general to apply for a federal court order directing compliance. Failure to observe the court order is punishable by a fine or imprisonment.

The law is limited to advertising. It would not, according to a spokesman for the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee, where the amendment originated, apply to magazines which print most of the classic four-letter words in text, but not in advertising.

About 100 mail-order dealers in obscenity — most of them in Culver City and elsewhere in Southern California — sell hard-core pornography through the mails. They pay $20 to $40 a thousand for mail-order lists of persons who might prove receptive to their wares. It is this small group against which the new law is aimed.

Legitimate direct-mail advertisers feel that the new law is much like an elephant gun used against a fly. They say that screening each list they use to purge complainers would be "a backbreaking burden."

Ironically, some pornographers take just the opposite attitude. The Wall Street Journal quotes one such as saying: "The law will just give us the opportunity to scrub our lists, making them more valuable."

Spelling Champs

Long hours of preparation and vital "stage presence" have paid off for two East Liverpool boys who have earned spelling championships in the annual competition of The Review and The Salem News.

Andy Bevan, East Junior High eighth grader and winner of the city title Friday night, and John Densmore, St. Aloysius seventh grader named county parochial champ Saturday, proved themselves against some other capable spellers.

A broad knowledge of words in the difficult non-phonetic English language, ability to analyze and correctly annunciate syllables of each word, and a self-confident calm in front of a panel of critical judges and an eager audience are "musts" for a spelldown victor.

The two boys, along with the city runner-up, Terry Vest and the rest of the city delegation, and the parochial runner-up, Valerie Smith, will be excellent representatives to the Columbiana County bee Wednesday at Lisbon where they and all the other area champs go with our best wishes.

The Mafia In Ohio?

The announcement by press aides of Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe that he has on file the names of 800 Ohioans suspected of being closely tied to the Mafia must give the average citizen a creepy feeling, to say the least.

Although these 800 citizens of the Buckeye State have not actually been linked to the notorious "flock of gangland vultures" known internationally as the Mafia or, more recently, as Cosa Nostra (Our Thing), the mere thought that this many are suspected of being associated with organized crime should cause considerable concern.

Making the announcement even more frightening is the disclosure by David E. Kessler, criminal activities chief, that the 800 names are only a part of a master list of 11,500 Ohioans suspected of being up to something illegal or immoral.

With recent Supreme Court rulings making it ever more difficult to convict suspected criminals, it may be understandable why there are so many names on the list. If they were in prison, their names would not be on the list.

Even if only a fraction of the 800 persons are associated with the internationally organized "Brotherhood of Evil," vigorous efforts should be made to prove it and imprison them.

The Hand Of Stupidity

The Caretaker

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Everyone is having a crack at predicting what will happen in 1968 so there is no reason why I shouldn't try it, too.

This is the way I see the presidential year shaping up:

Art Buchwald

With President Johnson out of the race, Bobby Kennedy's popularity will slip, and he'll reassess his position and decide that he is not a candidate for the Presidency of the United States.

Gene McCarthy, afraid that people will think he made a deal with Bobby, will also withdraw his name from the nomination, thus upholding his reputation as a man of great principle.

Hubert Humphrey, in order not to embarrass President Johnson, who might think he was hungry for the job, will announce he is not a candidate, thus leaving the Democrats without a nominee for the 1968 elections.

FORMER VICE PRESIDENT NIXON, fearful that a lack of opposition in the Democratic party could further hurt his chances of being elected president, will withdraw from the Republican campaign, adding that the press will no longer have him to kick around any more.

When Ronald Reagan discovers the federal deficit for the coming year, he will ask his supporters to fold up their tents and take his name out of the race. Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, waiting for a draft, will sit out the convention in Albany. Harold Stassen will get out of the race when he realizes that he might win and have to serve as President.

So the Republicans, as well as the Democrats, will be without a presidential candidate in 1968.

With both major parties refusing to field candidates, former Gov. George Wallace will be unable to appeal to the white backlash, and he will be unable to get enough signatures to get his name on the ballot.

AS NOVEMBER approaches, the country will be faced with an election but no one to vote for. So it will ask Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy to form a caretaker government to take over until a new President can be found.

Mrs. Kennedy will ask President Lyndon B. Johnson if he will stay in office in charge of the caretaker government until she can find someone to run for the office.

President Johnson will reluctantly agree to keep his Cabinet and run the country until some way can be worked out to relieve him of the office. He will do this only on the condition that he has a free hand to bring about needed reforms that he believes are necessary. He will warn Congress that if it doesn't go along with his recommendations, he will have no choice but to dissolve the caretaker government and retire to the L.B.J. Ranch.

FEARFUL OF having a country without a government, Congress will accede to all President Johnson's demands, and will pass every bill he proposes.

The caretaker government will be in office until 1972, at which time Gene McCarthy will decide to run in the New Hampshire primary. Once he wins there, Bobby Kennedy will reassess his position and decide to run for President himself.

This will bring Richard Nixon back into the race: Gov. Rockefeller will announce he is ready for a draft; Harold Stassen will, of course, be a candidate; and former Gov. George Wallace will announce he is reconstituting a third party.

President Johnson will then state that he will not longer head up the caretaker government.

I know all this sounds farfetched, but I'd like to ask you one question:

Is it any more farfetched than what's been going on for the past six weeks?

Letter To The Editor

(The Letters to the Editor column is for expressions of opinion by readers on current issues. All letters must be signed and include address of the sender, but names will be withheld upon request. Because of space limitations, letters should be brief or of moderate length.)

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

During the past six or seven years, I have heard expressions of "the long hot summer," and just the other day the meaning of this expression came to my understanding fully. It brought to my mind the story of Moses when the Lord told him to go to Egypt and tell Pharoah to let his people go. After many different pledges were made to Pharoah, he finally let the people go. The same thing seems to be happening today.

Some people have been taught that they are better than others. Some of them have a hold on other people, and no matter what happens, they seem to want to keep on holding; no matter what the cost — and the cost is great.

All winter long, some of us Negro and White, have been planning what to do about "the long hot summer." The Negroes are planning how to break out of bondage; and the White people are planning how to keep the Negroes in bondage. And both are determined: one to hold on and the other to break away.

So what do we have? (You said it—a riot). But I prefer to call it a disturbance. Some people are probably asking this question, "What do they want?" Well, I can tell you. The Negro wants full equal rights.

Some people would say, "They have more than I have now." It may seem this way, but how long have you had what you have. Now we want some of the better things life has to offer. And they don't come easily.

For instance, to get management jobs, a Negro would have to have 150 per cent in order to qualify for the job. Other people don't. In some cases, 80 per cent is good enough. Besides, in order to get a loan to remodel your home, your chances are limited. Before they would ever consider loaning you the money, there's always an excuse or excuses. Oh sure, there's always FHA; but why should Negroes have to go to FHA when banks are in business of loaning to qualified people?

A lot of other businesses in the area of 35 miles could have more Negroes working in capacities of clerks, salesmen, saleswomen, bank tellers, and so forth. I am speaking of qualified Negroes, and there are many in this area; but they don't get the chance to prove their ability.

So what happens? The Negroes have to go to bigger cities to get better jobs, where equal rights is in full swing. And from such feelings in our community, this is where the Rap Browns and Stokely Carmichaels breed from. This gives the people that are in authority something else to worry about, when all of us can be helped and be stopped, before the start of something big arises.

I would like to say something about schools: There's a school official who wants to speak with all Negro parents concerning education. This is good; for someone to be concerned about someone's education, but the way it was said could've caused trouble among school children.

They are saying "What does he want to talk with all the colored parents for? Some of the white students are just as bad or ignorant as anyone else." I think this educator should have sent an open letter stating the purpose of a meeting, which could've possibly been held in the high school auditorium, to all parents concerning their children's education.

I think we all know that there is good and bad in both Black and White. And we should treat such accordingly.

RAYMOND MOLEY

Dean Rusk

In the first year of the Kennedy administration, I wrote a piece saying that Dean Rusk had little option but to resign as secretary of state.

We writing people do that sort of thing. It makes us sound brave and informed in the ways of government. It doesn't affect our own jobs, and the people in government reject our advice (if they ever even read it) and don't resign.

I made the suggestion because in the dim past I had myself spent six unhappy months in the State Department. I learned then and later what a trial it is for a secretary of state when a President sets up an apparatus in the White House to advise him on foreign policy and thus by-pass his official adviser, the secretary.

Sec. Rusk, of course, did not resign. But after Lyndon Johnson became president and John Kennedy's little group of personal foreign secretaries was sent packing, the patient and durable Sec. Rusk came into his own and now, after seven difficult years, should be ranked among the foremost secretaries of state in our time.

The relations between presidents and their secretaries of state provide an interesting footnote in history. In some instances presidents have had the wisdom to appoint strong and knowledgeable men and have permitted them to dominate foreign policy.

BENJAMIN HARRISON had James G. Blaine. William McKinley, after two mistakes, appointed John Hay and gave the reins to him. Theodore Roosevelt had Elihu Root, Warren Harding gave full support and control to Charles Evans Hughes, and Dwight Eisenhower selected John Foster Dulles.

Woodrow Wilson, on the other hand, assumed full direction himself, had two resignations — one forced — and ended with a complaint subordinate. F.D.R. selected Cordell Hull because he wanted to make all the big decisions himself.

Sec. Rusk was appointed by President Kennedy because, by experience and intellectural equipment, he deserved the office. But Mr. Kennedy immediately created a sort of kitchen foreign office in the White House composed of men who in no way matched Rusk's competence and who, as we know from their post-assassination babbling, manifested contempt for Sec. Rusk and his department.

Arthur Schlesinger Jr., one of that crew, spends many pages in his book, "A Thousand Days" on contemputous comments about Sec. Rusk. His undisguised bias leads him into a grave contradiction.

He criticizes Sec. Rusk because, as he tells the story, the secretary failed to express his views forcibly when there was a foreign-policy huddle at the White House, and that, while Schlessinger concedes that Sec. Rusk was a superb technician, he never came up with new ideas.

But since, as in such conferences, it is probably true that Mr. Schlesinger did most of the talking, Sec. Rusk felt that silence was his best course. And since all new ideas were generated at the White House, the secretary was fully occupied in trying to implement them. It may be added that some of the new ideas were also bad ideas.

Among the other ordeals endured by Sec. Rusk in those 1,000 Kennedy days was the President's habit of dumping many political liabilities into the State Department. Among these were four lame-duck ex-governors for whom some sort of work had to be found.

WHEN LYNDON Johnson became president, he found Sec. Rusk to be ideally agreeable to his sort of government. For the secretary had created a smoothly operating State Department after its many years of neglect.

Mr. Johnson also had reason to respect his secretary because Sec. Rusk's knowledge and literacy enabled him to formulate his policies and cogently express them. In confronting Mr. Johnson's critics in the Senate, Sec. Rusk proved he could overwhelm them with his background understanding of the facts.

This was clearly revealed to the country during the long two-day inquisition by Sens. J. W. Fulbright, Wayne Morse and others.

But a much deeper, emotional tie bound Sec. Rusk and President Johnson together. They had been regarded as alien bodies introduced into the happy circle of Camelot. Sec. Rusk and L.B.J. had been viewed with disdain in the Kennedy world. And when the new president assumed office, they recognized their kinship.

Since then, Sec. Rusk's qualities have had excellent exposure to the country. As one writer has put it, he is a quiet man who projects great authority. He is "doughty, hard-bitten, gritty."

And, as a lifelong student of history, he grasps not only the role of the United States as it is recorded in the past, but the threat imposed by Communist expansion. He knows something of the reaility in the life and death of

Theme of the touching memorial tributes to Dr. Martin Luther King in East Liverpool, Midland and elsewhere over the weekend was that the work of the martyred civil rights leader must go on, the non-violent effort to achieve equal opportunity for all, regardless of color, must be continued.

Responsible blacks joined with whites in condemning the lawlessness, the utterly cruel destruction, death and degradation which marked outbreaks of violence in the large cities.

But as one observer commented, people who have been treated as fourth class citizens for generations cannot be expected to act other than as fourth class citizens.

Most of the looters and vandals were no more reacting directly to the slaying of Dr. King than they were to the hysterical outcries of Stokeley Carmichael—they were just getting what they could while they could. But they are a symptom of our times, just as the "invisible fence" to which the Rev. Oscar Arnal of Industry referred is a part of our times.

President Johnson, Congressmen, state leaders realize as do all responsible Negroes and Whites that the murder at Memphis focuses new attention on the need to make civil rights workable in all communities and at all levels.

The burning and looting at Pittsburgh, Washington and Chicago cannot be condoned. But neither can the conditions from which have grown the discontent and the despoilers.

Self-Service Censorship

The Post Office Department is publishing a brief leaflet, "How You Can Curb Pandering Advertisements." Plans for administering a special amendment to the Postal Revenue and Federal Salary Act of 1967 has been announced in postal bulletins sent to all post offices.

Under the new law, which goes into effect April 15, a family which finds an advertisement sent through the mails offensively erotic will be able to ask a postmaster to direct the mailer to send no more mail to him. He can also ask that his name be removed from all lists the mailer owns, controls, or rents.

Timothy J. May, Post Office Department general counsel, said "This new law should give some protection to the American families offended on occasion by unsolicited advertisements they believe to be morally harmful, particularly to their children. In the last fiscal year the Post Office Department received some 140,000 complaints from those offended by pandering advertisements."

The same Timothy May told Congress, just before it passed the self-censorship measure last year, that the new law might "wreck the machinery of large business mailers in the country, plunge the postal system into chaos, and . . . destroy the direct-mail advertising industry." Ironically, the law wasn't intended to cut back direct-mail advertising. It was supposed to throw a block at the rising thrust of mail pornographers.

The new law, says John J. Daly, vice president of the Direct Mail Advertising Association, is "administratively unworkable and probably unconstitutional." Those closest to the bill admitted that it might create an administrative chaos. But, as one congressional aide put it: "Congress was just fed up with all the filth in the mails and rammed the thing through."

The measure provides that any person who receives through the mail any advertisement that he considers "erotically arousing or sexually provocative" may demand that the postmaster general prohibit the sender from ever again mailing anything to him. The law gives the recipient "sole discretion" in deciding which ads are offensive. If the mailer fails to respect the order to desist, the postmaster general may ask the attorney general to apply for a federal court order directing compliance. Failure to observe the court order is punishable by a fine or imprisonment.

The law is limited to advertising. It would not, according to a spokesman for the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee, where the amendment originated, apply to magazines which print most of the classic four-letter words in text, but not in advertising.

About 100 mail-order dealers in obscenity — most of them in Culver City and elsewhere in Southern California — sell hard-core pornography through the mails. They pay $20 to $40 a thousand for mail-order lists of persons who might prove receptive to their wares. It is this small group against which the new law is aimed.

Legitimate direct-mail advertisers feel that the new law is much like an elephant gun used against a fly. They say that screening each list they use to purge complainers would be "a backbreaking burden."

Ironically, some pornographers take just the opposite attitude. The Wall Street Journal quotes one such as saying: "The law will just give us the opportunity to scrub our lists, making them more valuable."

Spelling Champs

Long hours of preparation and vital "stage presence" have paid off for two East Liverpool boys who have earned spelling championships in the annual competition of The Review and The Salem News.

Andy Bevan, East Junior High eighth grader and winner of the city title Friday night, and John Densmore, St. Aloysius seventh grader named county parochial champ Saturday, proved themselves against some other capable spellers.

A broad knowledge of words in the difficult non-phonetic English language, ability to analyze and correctly annunciate syllables of each word, and a self-confident calm in front of a panel of critical judges and an eager audience are "musts" for a spelldown victor.

The two boys, along with the city runner-up, Terry Vest and the rest of the city delegation, and the parochial runner-up, Valerie Smith, will be excellent representatives to the Columbiana County bee Wednesday at Lisbon where they and all the other area champs go with our best wishes.

The Mafia In Ohio?

The announcement by press aides of Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe that he has on file the names of 300 Ohioans suspected of being closely tied to the Mafia must give the average citizen a creepy feeling, to say the least.

Although these 800 citizens of the Buckeye State have not actually been linked to the notorious "flock of gangland vultures" known internationally as the Mafia or, more recently, as Cosa Nostra (Our Thing), the mere thought that this many are suspected of being associated with organized crime should cause considerable concern.

Making the announcement even more frightening is the disclosure by David E. Kessler, criminal activities chief, that the 800 names are only a part of a master list of 11,500 Ohioans suspected of being up to something illegal or immoral.

With recent Supreme Court rulings making it ever more difficult to convict suspected criminals, it may be understandable why there are so many names on the list. If they were in prison, their names would not be on the list.

Even if only a fraction of the 800 persons are associated with the internationally organized "Brotherhood of Evil," vigorous efforts should be made to prove it and imprison them.

The Hand Of Stupidity

The Caretaker

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Everyone is having a crack at predicting what will happen in 1968 so there is no reason why I shouldn't try it, too.

This is the way I see the presidential year shaping up:

Art Buchwald

With President Johnson out of the race, Bobby Kennedy's popularity will slip, and he'll reassess his position and decide that he is not a candidate for the Presidency of the United States.

Gene McCarthy, afraid that people will think he made a deal with Bobby, will also withdraw his name from the nomination, thus upholding his reputation as a man of great principle.

Hubert Humphrey, in order not to embarrass President Johnson, who might think he was hungry for the job, will announce he is not a candidate, thus leaving the Democrats without a nominee for the 1968 elections.

FORMER VICE PRESIDENT NIXON, fearful that a lack of opposition in the Democratic party could further hurt his chances of being elected president, will withdraw from the Republican campaign, adding that the press will no longer have him to kick around any more.

When Ronald Reagan discovers the federal deficit for the coming year, he will ask his supporters to fold up their tents and take his name out of the race. Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, waiting for a draft, will sit out the convention in Albany. Harold Stassen will get out of the race when he realizes that he might win and have to serve as President.

So the Republicans, as well as the Democrats, will be without a presidential candidate in 1968.

With both major parties refusing to field candidates, former Gov. George Wallace will be unable to appeal to the white backlash, and he will be unable to get enough signatures to get his name on the ballot.

AS NOVEMBER approaches, the country will be faced with an election but no one to vote for. So it will ask Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy to form a caretaker government to take over until a new President can be found.

Mrs. Kennedy will ask President Lyndon B. Johnson if he will stay in office in charge of the caretaker government until she can find someone to run for the office.

President Johnson will reluctantly agree to keep his Cabinet and run the country until some way can be worked out to relieve him of the office. He will do this only on the condition that he has a free hand to bring about needed reforms that he believes are necessary. He will warn Congress that if it doesn't go along with his recommendations, he will have no choice but to dissolve the caretaker government and retire to the L.B.J. Ranch.

FEARFUL OF having a country without a government, Congress will accede to all President Johnson's demands, and will pass every bill he proposes.

The caretaker government will be in office until 1972, at which time Gene McCarthy will decide to run in the New Hampshire primary. Once he wins there, Bobby Kennedy will reassess his position and decide to run for President himself.

This will bring Richard Nixon back into the race: Gov. Rockefeller will announce he is ready for a draft; Harold Stassen will, of course, be a candidate; and former Gov. George Wallace will announce he is reconstituting a third party.

President Johnson will then state that he will not longer head up the caretaker government.

I know all this sounds farfetched, but I'd like to ask you one question:

Is it any more farfetched than what's been going on for the past six weeks?

(The Letters to the Editor column is for expressions of opinion by readers on current issues. All letters must be signed and include address of the sender, but names will be withheld upon request. Because of space limitations, letters should be brief or of moderate length.)

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

During the past six or seven years, I have heard expressions of "the long hot summer," and just the other day the meaning of this expression came to my understanding fully. It brought to my mind the story of Moses when the Lord told him to go to Egypt and tell Pharoah to let his people go. After many different pledges were made to Pharoah, he finally let the people go. The same thing seems to be happening today.

Some people have been taught that they are better than others. Some of them have a hold on other people, and no matter what happens, they seem to want to keep on holding; no matter what the cost — and the cost is great.

All winter long, some of us Negro and White, have been planning what to do about "the long hot summer." The Negroes are planning how to break out of bondage; and the White people are planning how to keep the Negroes in bondage. And both are determined: one to hold on and the other to break away.

So what do we have? (You said it—a riot). But I prefer to call it a disturbance. Some people are probably asking this question, "What do they want?" Well, I can tell you. The Negro wants full equal rights.

Some people would say, "They have more than I have now." It may seem this way, but how long have you had what you have. Now we want some of the better things life has to offer. And they don't come easily.

For instance, to get management jobs, a Negro would have to have 150 per cent in order to qualify for the job. Other people don't. In some cases, 90 per cent is good enough. Besides, in order to get a loan to remodel your home, your chances are limited. Before they would ever consider loaning you the money, there's always an excuse or excuses. Oh sure, there's always FHA; but why should Negroes have to go to FHA when banks are in business of loaning to qualified people?

A lot of other businesses in the area of 35 miles could have more Negroes working in capacities of clerks, salesmen, saleswomen, bank tellers, and so forth. I am speaking of qualified Negroes, and there are many in this area; but they don't get the chance to prove their ability.

So what happens? The Negroes have to go to bigger cities to get better jobs, where equal rights is in full swing. And from such feelings in our community, this is where the Rap Browns and Stokely Carmichaels breed from. This gives the people that are in authority something else to worry about, when all of us can be helped and be stopped, before the start of something big arises.

I would like to say something about schools: There's a school official who wants to speak with all Negro parents concerning education. This is good; for someone to be concerned about someone's education, but the way it was said could've caused trouble among school children.

They are saying "What does he want to talk with all the colored parents for? Some of the white students are just as bad or ignorant as anyone else." I think this educator should have sent an open letter stating the purpose of a meeting, which could've possibly been held in the high school auditorium, to all parents concerning their children's education.

I think we all know that there is good and bad in both Black and White. And we should treat such accordingly.

RAYMOND MOLEY

Dean Rusk

In the first year of the Kennedy administration, I wrote a piece saying that Dean Rusk had little option but to resign as secretary of state.

We writing people do that sort of thing. It makes us sound brave and informed in the ways of government. It doesn't affect our own jobs, and the people in government reject our advice (if they ever even read it) and don't resign.

I made the suggestion because in the dim past I had myself spent six unhappy months in the State Department. I learned then and later what a trial it is for a secretary of state when a President sets up an apparatus in the White House to advise him on foreign policy and thus by-pass his official adviser, the secretary.

Sec. Rusk, of course, did not resign. But after Lyndon Johnson became president and John Kennedy's little group of personal foreign secretaries was sent packing, the patient and durable Sec. Rusk came into his own and now, after seven difficult years, should be ranked among the foremost secretaries of state in our time.

The relations between presidents and their secretaries of state provide an interesting footnote in history. In some instances presidents have had the wisdom to appoint strong and knowledgeable men and have permitted them to dominate foreign policy.

BENJAMIN HARRISON had James G. Blaine. William McKinley, after two mistakes, appointed John Hay and gave the reins to him. Theodore Roosevelt had Elihu Root, Warren Harding gave full support and control to Charles Evans Hughes, and Dwight Eisenhower selected John Foster Dulles.

Woodrow Wilson, on the other hand, assumed full direction himself, had two resignations — one forced — and ended with a complaint subordinate. F.D.R. selected Cordell Hull because he wanted to make all the big decisions himself.

Sec. Rusk was appointed by President Kennedy because, by experience and intellectural equipment, he deserved the office. But Mr. Kennedy immediately created a sort of kitchen foreign office in the White House composed of men who in no way matched Rusk's competence and who, as we know from their post-assassination babbling, manifested contempt for Sec. Rusk and his department.

Arthur Schlesinger Jr., one of that crew, spends many pages in his book, "A Thousand Days" on contemputous comments about Sec. Rusk. His undisguised bias leads him into a grave contradiction.

He criticizes Sec. Rusk because, as he tells the story, the secretary failed to express his views forcibly when there was a foreign-policy huddle at the White House, and that, while Schlessinger concedes that Sec. Rusk was a superb technician, he never came up with new ideas.

But since, as in such conferences, it is probably true that Mr. Schlesinger did most of the talking, Sec. Rusk felt that silence was his best course. And since all new ideas were generated at the White House, the secretary was fully occupied in trying to implement them. It may be added that some of the new ideas were also bad ideas.

Among the other ordeals endured by Sec. Rusk in those 1,000 Kennedy days was the President's habit of dumping many political liabilities into the State Department. Among these were four lame-duck ex-governors for whom some sort of work had to be found.

WHEN LYNDON Johnson became president, he found Sec. Rusk to be ideally agreeable to his sort of government. For the secretary had created a smoothly operating State Department after its many years of neglect.

Mr. Johnson also had reason to respect his secretary because Sec. Rusk's knowledge and literacy enabled him to formulate his policies and cogently express them. In confronting Mr. Johnson's critics in the Senate, Sec. Rusk proved he could overwhelm them with his background understanding of the facts.

This was clearly revealed to the country during the long two-day inquisition by Sens. J. W. Fulbright, Wayne Morse and others.

But a much deeper, emotional tie bound Sec. Rusk and President Johnson together. They had been regarded as alien bodies introduced into the happy circle of Camelot. Sec. Rusk and L.B.J. had been viewed with disdain in the Kennedy world. And when the new president assumed office, they recognized their kinship.

Since then, Sec. Rusk's qualities have had excellent exposure to the country. As one writer has put it, he is a quiet man who projects great authority. He is "doughty, hard-bitten, gritty."

And, as a lifelong student of history, he grasps not only the role of the United States as it is recorded in the past, but the threat imposed by Communist expansion. He knows something of the reality in the life and death of

Women Bus Drivers Sought By Jefferson County Schools

Women bus drivers are being sought for the various school districts in Jefferson County.

For the first time, they are being offered a pre - driving course, with instruction to start June 10 at Wintersville High School.

The planning committee for the program includes: Zygmont E. Rataiczak, coordinator, Area 28, Ohio Department of Education; Irwin Boetticher, transportation supervisor, Buckeye Local; Harry Boone, transportation supervisor, Edison Local, and Corwin Coe, transportation supervisor, Indian Creek.

The pre-driving classes will run for three hours each day for two weeks.

The committee urges all interested women to contact the school superintendent's office in their area as quickly as possible. Registration for the course will close at noon May 10.

Members of the committee point out the county "is becoming more and more concerned about their children who are being transported every day. Therefore, we are endeavoring to do something about recruiting more competent drivers. That is why all local and city schools within the county, with the cooperation of the State Department of Education and the area coordinator, are planning the pre-driving bus course for prospective women drivers."

The women would be needed in the morning and afternoon to transport the pupils.

Previous experience as a bus driver is not required, but an operator's license is necessary to qualify for the course, the committee pointed out.

'Hays For LBJ' Set For Study At Democrat Parley

Don R. Gosney, 18th District State Democratic committeeman, has called a Wednesday meeting of all Democrat chairmen of the six counties in the 18th District along with delegates and alternates to the party's national convention.

Gosney said the group will consider urging President Lyndon Johnson to seek re-election, and — in case the President does not — will explore the possibility of "promoting Rep. Wayne L. Hays into the national picture."

"There is support in the U.S. House of Representatives and in the U.S. Senate for Hays to become an active candidate on the scene," Gosney said.

Esther Pinsky of Steubenville, 18th District committeewoman, and Gosney are also expected to discuss the state party headquarters situation.

Gosney said there may be a big move for changes after the May primary. "The state situation has had leaders dumping Sen. Frank Lausche, and many Ohio Democrats are unhappy over this."

"The present state headquarters has led the party to defeat in 1966 and put a big split in the party trying to defeat a five - time Governor and a two-term Senator."

The meeting will be held at the City Restaurant at Bellaire.

Women bus drivers are being sought for the various school districts in Jefferson County.

For the first time, they are being offered a pre - driving course, with instruction to start June 10 at Wintersville High School.

The planning committee for the program includes: Zygmont E. Rataiczak, coordinator, Area 28, Ohio Department of Education; Irwin Boetticher, transportation supervisor, Buckeye Local; Harry Boone, transportation supervisor, Edison Local, and Corwin Coe, transportation supervisor, Indian Creek.

The pre-driving classes will run for three hours each day for two weeks.

The committee urges all interested women to contact the school superntendent's office in their area as quickly as possible. Registration for the course will close at noon May 10.

Members of the committee point out the county "is becoming more and more concerned about their children who are being transported every day. Therefore, we are endeavoring to do something about recruiting more competent drivers. That is why all local and city schools within the county, with the cooperation of the State Department of Education and the area coordinator, are planning the pre-driving bus course for prospective women drivers."

The women would be needed in the morning and afternoon to transport the pupils.

Previous experience as a bus driver is not required, but an operator's license is necessary to qualify for the course, the committee pointed out.

'Hays For LBJ' Set For Study At Democrat Parley

Don R. Gosney, 18th District State Democratic committeeman, has called a Wednesday meeting of all Democrat chairmen of the six counties in the 18th District along with delegates and alternates to the party's national convention.

Gosney said the group will consider urging President Lyndon Johnson to seek re-election, and — in case the President does not — will explore the possibility of "promoting Rep. Wayne L. Hays into the national picture."

"There is support in the U.S. House of Representatives and in the U.S. Senate for Hays to become an active candidate on the scene," Gosney said.

Esther Pinsky of Steubenville, 18th District committeewoman, and Gosney are also expected to discuss the state party headquarters situation.

Gosney said there may be a big move for changes after the May primary. "The state situation has had leaders dumping Sen. Frank Lausche, and many Ohio Democrats are unhappy over this."

"The present state headquarters has led the party to defeat in 1966 and put a big split in the party trying to defeat a five - time Governor and a two-term Senator."

The meeting will be held at the City Restaurant at Bellaire.

NEW DELHI (AP) — India plans to make rubber producers out of its Andaman Islands, located far out in the eastern Bay of Bengal near Burma. Deputy Commerce Minister M. S. Qureshi told Parliament 6,000 acres would be planted in rubber trees during the next five years.

Memorial

echoed the report of the Civil Rights Commission that America faces becoming a divided society — black and white.

He said that true Christians had an obligation to fulfill the dream of Christ and of Dr. King in achieving the brotherhood of man. The service was held at the First Baptist Church.

Rev. Arnal said he doubts if black power advocates such as Stokely Carmichael and H. Rap Brown are ever shot because they stand for a divided society. "The real enemy of white terrorism was the Atlanta Nobel Prize winner, an advocate of non-violence who would not tolerate segregation in any form."

—:—

"THE DREAM of Dr. King was not his alone," the minister said. "It was the dream of Christ and Ghandi and of all humanitarians. And if we as Christians do not help achieve it, Dr. King will have died in vain and we will not have lived up to our duties as Christians."

"The invisible fence in Midland has to come down before that dream is realized; when the next black doctor comes to town, we cannot refuse to sell him a home if that dream is to be realized."

Rev. Arnal said the church has to go out to the people, and Christians must help to insure that there is equality in jobs, housing, voter rights, justice and all facets of life.

He said Dr. King will have died in vain "if we all go out of this church with easily salved consciences because we have attended a memorial service."

Mrs. Aaron Golding, chairman of the memorial and president of the Midland NAACP, said she hoped the tragedy would help carry out real equality of mankind.

MAYOR ELI Corak paid tribute to Dr. King, and said Americans must look to God for inspiration in implementing brotherhood. Henry Cannon, representing Mayor Steve Suchanec of Industry, declared he hoped "from this sad moment will come from men of good will a new sense of freedom."

Charles Schmitt, chairman of the Midland Human Relations Commission, said everyone has a responsibility to see that Dr. King did not give his life without purpose. He said the death should be a motivation for achieving the goals for which Dr. King lived and died.

Midland School Supt. C. P. Henderson asked, "Can we pick up the mantle of responsibility which he set before us, and work together for his cause?"

James Morrison, school director and presiding officer, urged the practice of brotherhood every day, throughout the whole community.

The combined choirs of the host church and Ohio View Lutheran Church sang.

ABOUT 50 attended the city NAACP memorial Saturday.

Eulogies to Dr. King were paid by the Rev. Paul Randall of the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church, the Rev. E. H. Harris of the Second Baptist Church, the Rev. John Skelbred of St. John's Lutheran Church, the Rev. Gene Toot of Trinity United Presbyterian Church, Rev. Salisbury, Atty. Earl Rowe of Cleveland, Jerry Nachman, former city resident, Councilman-at-large Frank Duffy, and the Rev. Mose Bishop of the Sheridan AME Church.

Caesar Peters, president, was in charge.

Atty. Rowe said he met Dr. King in Cleveland during the 1967 voter registration drive, and said he was a humble and great man who lived, preached and practiced non-violence. continued in the hope that blacks and whites will "get to know each other." Rev. Salisbury said the most important thing about the day's tributes is that white people not forget in a few days the meaning of what Dr. King was seeking for all of America. The Rev. Mose Bishop gave the benediction.

At Wellsville, 70 attended a memorial at the New Jerusalem Baptist Church held by the Ohio Valley Missionary Union. Caesar Peters, president of the city NAACP, spoke on Dr. King's life, and the Rev. E. H. Harris of the 2nd Baptist Church of East Liverpool, gave the eulogy.

Mrs. Edna Banks read a poem, the Union choir sang "We Shall Overcome" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic." Mrs. Naomi Roach sang a solo. The Rev. R. L. Harris, host pastor, was in charge.

School Board Urges Activity Postponement

The East Liverpool board of education has urged the school activities scheduled tonight be postponed out of respect for the late Dr. Martin Luther King and in recognition of the subsequent happenings.

A few moments of silent prayer will be observed for the slain civil rights leader at the high school Tuesday, Supt. Paul Blair said.

Memorial

echoed the report of the Civil Rights Commission that America faces becoming a divided society — black and white.

He said that true Christians had an obligation to fulfill the dream of Christ and of Dr. King in achieving the brotherhood of man. The service was held at the First Baptist Church.

Rev. Arnal said he doubts if black power advocates such as Stokely Carmichael and H. Rap Brown are ever shot because they stand for a divided society. "The real enemy of white terrorism was the Atlanta Nobel Prize winner, an advocate of non-violence who would not tolerate segregation in any form."

—:—

"THE DREAM of Dr. King was not his alone," the minister said. "It was the dream of Christ and Ghandi and of all humanitarians. And if we as Christians do not help achieve it, Dr. King will have died in vain and we will not have lived up to our duties as Christians."

"The invisible fence in Midland has to come down before that dream is realized; when the next black doctor comes to town, we cannot refuse to sell him a home if that dream is to be realized."

Rev. Arnal said the church has to go out to the people, and Christians must help to insure that there is equality in jobs, housing, voter rights, justice and all facets of life.

He said Dr. King will have died in vain "if we all go out of this church with easily salved consciences because we have attended a memorial service."

Mrs. Aaron Golding, chairman of the memorial and president of the Midland NAACP, said she hoped the tragedy would help carry out real equality of mankind.

MAYOR ELI Corak paid tribute to Dr. King, and said Americans must look to God for inspiration in implementing brotherhood. Henry Cannon, representing Mayor Steve Suchanec of Industry, declared he hoped "from this sad moment will come from men of good will a new sense of freedom."

Charles Schmitt, chairman of the Midland Human Relations Commission, said everyone has a responsibility to see that Dr. King did not give his life without purpose. He said the death should be a motivation for achieving the goals for which Dr. King lived and died.

Midland School Supt. C. P. Henderson asked, "Can we pick up the mantle of responsibility which he set before us, and work together for his cause?"

James Morrison, school director and presiding officer, urged the practice of brotherhood every day, throughout the whole community.

The combined choirs of the host church and Ohio View Lutheran Church sang.

ABOUT 50 attended the city NAACP memorial Saturday.

Eulogies to Dr. King were paid by the Rev. Paul Randall of the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church, the Rev. E. H. Harris of the Second Baptist Church, the Rev. John Skelbred of St. John's Lutheran Church, the Rev. Gene Toot of Trinity United Presbyterian Church, Rev. Salisbury, Atty. Earl Rowe of Cleveland, Jerry Nachman, former city resident, Councilman-at-large Frank Duffy, and the Rev. Mose Bishop of the Sheridan AME Church.

Caesar Peters, president, was in charge.

Atty. Rowe said he met Dr. King in Cleveland during the 1967 voter registration drive, and said he was a humble and great man who lived, preached and practiced non-violence.

continued in the hope that blacks and whites will "get to know each other." Rev. Salisbury said the most important thing about the day's tributes is that white people not forget in a few days the meaning of what Dr. King was seeking for all of America. The Rev. Mose Bishop gave the benediction.

At Wellsville, 70 attended a memorial at the New Jerusalem Baptist Church held by the Ohio Valley Missionary Union. Caesar Peters, president of the city NAACP, spoke on Dr. King's life, and the Rev. E. H. Harris of the 2nd Baptist Church of East Liverpool, gave the eulogy.

Mrs. Edna Banks read a poem, the Union choir sang "We Shall Overcome" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic." Mrs. Naomi Roach sang a solo. The Rev. R. L. Harris, host pastor, was in charge.

School Board Urges Activity Postponement

The East Liverpool board of education has urged the school activities scheduled tonight be postponed out of respect for the late Dr. Martin Luther King and in recognition of the subsequent happenings.

A few moments of silent prayer will be observed for the slain civil rights leader at the high school Tuesday, Supt. Paul Blair said.

Damage has been set at $10,500 in a fire which broke out late Sunday afternoon in the attic apartment of a Wellsville home.

The blaze was burning briskly when firemen, summoned at 5:24 p.m. by a neighbor, arrived at the apartment occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rutan who were not at home.

Chief Lewis said the neighbor saw smoke coming from the building, and the blaze had apparently been burning for some time.

Damage to the contents of the apartment was estimated at $5,500. There was also water damage in other apartments, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ray McBain, owners of the building, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carpenter.

Lewis said 17 firemen responded to the alarm with two trucks, and battled the flames for about an hour.

$2,500 Loss Set In Garage Fire

Damage has been estimated at $2,500 in a Saturday fire which leveled a garage owned by Carl Taylor of Densmore Ave.

Three trucks and eight men from the LaCroft station and a tanker and four men from Glenmoor fought the blaze.

Firemen were required to maintain water "curtains" to protect nearby homes. In spite of their efforts, the home of William Taylor was singed and several storm windows broken from the heat, Chalmer Gifford, chief at LaCroft said.

Gifford reminded that fire permits are required for all burning outside. They may be obtained through Homer Cronin or at the fire hall.

Tri-State Weather Due To Turn Cooler

The weather will be fair, but cooler tonight and Tuesday.

Tonight's low is to be in the 40s.

Temperatures, however, will be above normal through Saturday.

Daytime highs will range from the upper 50s to the upper 60s. Overnight lows will be in the upper 30s and the middle 40s. Precipitation will average one-half to three-quarters of an inch, with the majority of the rain expected Friday.

The Gray fox is the only fox that can actually climb trees. If the branches are low enough, it will go up by leaps from one branch to another. With no low branches, the gray fox will grab hold of the trunk with its limbs and clamber up with the aid of its claws.

$10,500 Loss Set At Blaze In Wellsville

Damage has been set at $10,500 in a fire which broke out late Sunday afternoon in the attic apartment of a Wellsville home.

Fire Chief Robert Lewis said about $5,000 damage to the house at 300 10th St. was caused when a short circuit in wiring in the attic ignited adjacent wooden members.

The blaze was burning briskly when firemen, summoned at 5:24 p.m. by a neighbor, arrived at the apartment occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rutan who were not at home.

Chief Lewis said the neighbor saw smoke coming from the building, and the blaze had apparently been burning for some time.

Damage to the contents of the apartment was estimated at $5,500. There was also water damage in other apartments, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ray McBain, owners of the building, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carpenter.

Lewis said 17 firemen responded to the alarm with two trucks, and battled the flames for about an hour.

The officer said he opened the car door for the boy to get in this morning only to see him spin away and dash down Jail Alley toward the Square. Hedrick ran inside the jail to have the radioman alert Lisbon police.

The youth was wearing blue jeans and an Army shirt with sergeant's stripes. He has blond hair, blue eyes, fair skin and facial blemishes. He is about 5 feet, 9 inches tall and weighs 130 pounds.

ANN LANDERS

Heavenly Poker Player

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Our 7-year-old daughter loved her grandpa very much. He was a kindly person who used to take Mary for walks and tell her fascinating stories.

Grandpa passed away suddenly two weeks ago. The child was very unhappy about his passing away and it was hard for her to understand why a God who is good would take away her best friend.

Last week Mary was sitting on her grandmother's lap. I heard her ask if God would allow Grandpa to play poker in heaven. Her answer was, "Of course not. God does not allow card playing in heaven." (Grandma always hated Grandpa's card playing, and everyone knew it, especially Grandpa.)

Mary was very sad about this and replied, "Oh Grandma, how too bad! That is what Grandpa used to like to do best."

Later my wife and I were discussing the conversation. Do you think Grandma was right to answer Mary as she did? — Q.Q.

-:-

Dear Q. Q.: No. The child was searching for reassurance that her grandpa was happy in heaven. It was not necessary for Grandma to give her a small lecture on the moral aspect of card playing. If the child should bring up the subject again tell her no one knows for sure what goes on in heaven—the very best a person can do is guess. And your guess is that Grandpa is up there with aces back to back.

Paying Papas

Dear Ann. A great deal has been said to unwed mothers, but one seldom hears or reads anything directed to unwed fathers. Why? After all, it's the male who carries the seed of life. Does it not, then, seem logical that he be held accountable for his behavior?

I have three sons, two in their teens, and I've made it clear to all three boys that if they get a girl in trouble they're going to marry her — regardless. No red-eyed miss is going to come to THIS house with her father at her side demanding that my son do the right thing.

I wish you'd discuss this in your column, Ann. It's a subject that needs airing. — MOTHER OF THREE.

Dear Mother: I agree — young men should be taught that they have a responsibility toward the girls they date. Most boys, unfortunately, think they are entitled to everything that is offered plus whatever they can talk a girl into.

On the other hand, I don't believe a forced marriage solves any problems. An unwilling bridegroom makes a poor husband and a worse father.

Check Artist

Dear Ann: I've been married less than a year to a man who has many fine qualities, but — he's an accomplished check dodger.

Whenever we're out with another couple, Norman manages to head for the men's room when he sees the waiter coming with the check. If his timing is poor and he's trapped at the table, he has a knack for looking the other way, or he's so slow about getting out his wallet that someone else pays.

I hate for him to be a sponger and wonder why his friends let him get away with it. How can I put an end to it without hitting him head on? — EMBARRASSED WIFE.

Dear Wife: Since Norman seems to have an impediment in his reach, take matters into your own hands. Keep track of whose turn it is to pay and when it's Norman's turn, take the check from the waiter and hand it to him.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Amvit Starts Use Of New Data System

American Vitrified Products Co., one of the nation's leading producers of vitrified clay pipe for sewer construction, has installed a new interoffice data transmitting system here. The system is believed to be the first of its type used in the industry.

Edwin Bayless, plant manager, said the system consists of a 2021 Friden Flexowriter machine and an 8A Teledata machine. Information on production and sales is relayed via telephone line to the headquarters office in Cleveland, where it is fed into an IBM-360 computer.

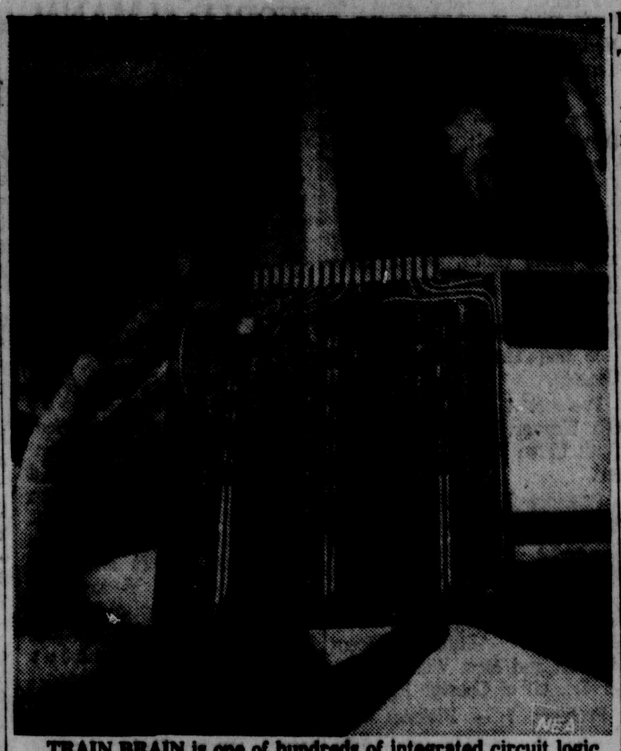

This plant is one of five to be equipped with the system, Bayless said. Other plants are Uhrichsville, Ohio; Brazil, Ind.; Somerville, N. J., and White Hall, Ill. The overall system became operational April 1.

Designed to increase efficiency in production, sales and service, the system provides instant communication between the main office in Cleveland and five of the firm's six pipe manufacturing plants. Cleveland serves as the nucleus for the system, receiving daily tabulations on production and sales from each plant.

"We can now maintain a more efficient control over daily shipments and production on a company - wide basis," Bayless explained. "The system speeds customer service and makes production and sales information more readily available. In the future," he added, "Amvit plans to expand its use by also transmitting credit, payroll and accounting information."

Prison Adds Color To Clothing, Walls

HONOLULU (AP) — State Prison inmates in Hawaii will no longer have to wear the traditional blue denim clothes used in institutions across the country, but will have a free choice of colors.

Ray Belnap, state corrections administrator, said the inmates will be able to choose clothing from four colors, palmetto, charcoal, olive and ivy.

"The freedom of choice is extremely important," he said. "It's an innovation. They should have a choice instead of wearing drab blue in drab surroundings."

Belnap said the new clothing is in keeping with the color plan for the prison. He said the depressing gray walls will be converted to soothing pastels as the prison goes into a painting and fix-up program.

Way Being Sought To Honor Famed Man

TAOS, N.M. (AP) — Taos residents are seeking a way to honor one of the town's most famous citizens, Kit Carson, on the 100th anniversary of his death this May 23.

Since 1959, the 150th anniversary of the frontiersman's birth, Taos has sought a commemorative postage stamp in Carson's honor. But they have had no luck so far.

Jack Boyer, manager of the Kit Carson museum, said many of Carson's descendants live in the area. The pioneer trapper and guide is buried near his Taos home.

Dedication Planned

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The University of Akron will dedicate its $10.2 million Auburn Science and Engineering Center April 19, and Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes will be one of the speakers at the afternoon dedication convocation. The building is named in honor of Dr. Norman P. Auburn, who is completing his 17th year as president of the school.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The elephant bird, or Aepyornis maximus, extinct for centuries, stood nine to 10 feet tall and weighed half a ton. Not surprisingly, the bird couldn't fly. When fresh, an aepyornis egg weighed about 20 pounds, equal to 250 hen eggs. This bird is known to have lived in Madagascar (Malagasy Republic) from about a million years ago and survived there until about A.D. 900.

3 Motorists Pay $104 On 27 Parking Tags

Three motorists accused of ignoring 27 old parking tickets paid a total of $104.50 in fines, costs and forfeitures today in Municipal Court.

Glenda Wilk of RD 1 forfeited a $43.50 bond on a charge of ignoring 13 of the citations. She was named in an affidavit signed by "Meter Maid" Juanita Stoffel. Ronald Hildebrand of Grimms Bridge paid a $24 fine and $7.50 costs on an affidavit alleging he failed to settle for seven old tickets. He was named in a charge filed by "Meter Maid" Maxine Clark.

Helen L. Robinson of 107 Blakeley St. was fined $22 and $7.50 costs on a charge of ignoring six old tickets. She told the court the ticketed auto actually belongs to her niece, a minor, although the title is in her name. Judge Samuel Chertoff responded that the city's policy is that the owner of record is responsible for tickets.

Report Due At Lisbon On Insurance Study

LISBON — A committee studying the feasibility of purchasing group medical - hospitalization insurance for full-time village employes will report to Council at 7:30 tonight.

Three insurance firms submitted bids at the last meeting March 25. Mayor Clyde B. Pike asked the insurance and finance committees to meet and have a recommendation ready today.

Two Autos Involved In Mishap At Lisbon

LISBON — Cars driven by Robert E. Carroll, 46, of Warren and Patricia A. Lavelle, 19, of 115 S. Lincoln Ave., Lisbon, collided at 5:35 p. m. Saturday at N. Park Ave. and N. Market St. (Route 45) on the Square.

Police said Carroll was driving south on Market and the other driver, going west on Park, turned south onto Market and struck the left front fender of Carroll's car. No one was cited.

NFO Members To Destroy Pigs In Cost Protest

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP)—Ohio members of the National Farmers Organization (NFO) planned today to kill and bury 1,000 hogs unless enough meatpakers sign satisfactory contracts by midnight Wednesday.

Richard Fout of Leesburg, chief NFO bargainer for Ohio, said the farmers would give the animals to the needy if meatpackers met the deadline.

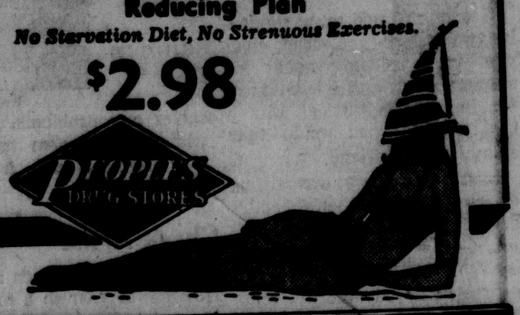

Fout said the NFO is seeking contracts paying 23 cents per pound for cattle.

If meatpackers fail to meet the deadline, Fout said, the animals will be shot and buried on the John Shoots farm near Bellefontaine starting at 10 a.m. Thursday.

Southern Ohio NFO members recently killed and buried 1,000 of their hogs in the same economic battle. Northern Ohio members had planned similar action, but gave their 1,004 hogs to Cleveland's needy after a meatpacker volunteered to process the animals.

Fout said today's announcement involved NFO members in all parts of the state. He said that contracts demanded by the NFO would mean a four cent per pound increase on hogs and a five cents per pound increase on cattle.

Memphis March Still On

By BOB GILBERT
Associated Press Writer

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Thousands assembled today for a silent march which Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. intended to lead, as negotiators failed in a marathon effort to end the city garbage strike before the demonstration began.

King, assassinated here Thursday, had come to Memphis to aid the strikers.

Representatives of the city and the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes huddled for 18 hours with Undersecretary of Labor James Reynolds, sent here Saturday by President Johnson to mediate the dispute.

The session began at 10 a.m. Sunday and continued early today, with only a short lunch break. Mayor Henry Loeb joined the talks about 2 a.m.

However, the negotiators—with representatives of both sides shaking their heads silently—filed out of the hotel where the mediation was in progress at 6 a.m.

No time for resumption of the talks was set.

Nationally known persons in many fields gathered for the silent walk in honor of the slain civil rights leader who received the Nobel Peace Prize for his program of nonviolence.

Federal and state investigators continued their hunt for the person who shot King to death Thursday as he stood on the balcony of a Memphis motel.

U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark said Sunday in Washington that investigators have "one man on the run." He added, "We hope to have an early conclusion to the investigation, followed by indictment, trial and conviction."

Clues To Killer

"We have a name we're working on," he said. "We know quite a bit more than we did two days ago."

Organizers of the memorial march said Mrs. King would be at the head of the parade. However, Mrs. King said in Atlanta, "My plans are not all definite."

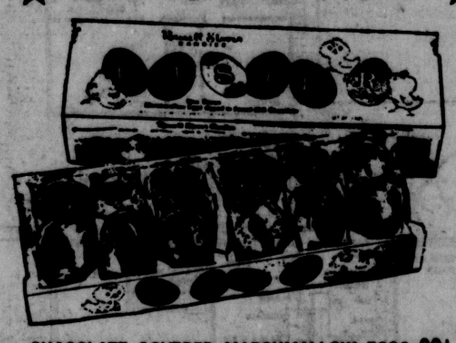

March organizers, working throughout the night, said that depending on Mrs. King's wishes, they may represent King's place in the front rank either by a vacant position, or by a young girl dressed in white and bearing a wreath.

March Has 2 Purposes

The march has a second purpose, said the Rev. James Orange, one of King's staff members. It is to push for a settlement of the garbage workers strike that brought the Southern Christian Leadership Conference leader to Memphis in the first place.

The sand, gravel and crushed stone needed for the interstate highway system would girdle the earth with a wall 50 feet wide and nine feet high.

Lights Brighten Living Outdoors

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A growing trend toward outdoor living, with patios, special furniture and barbecues, also should call for more outdoor light.

With so much invested in all of these conveniences, it seems wise to extend their use into the darker hours.

Lighting should be carefully planned. A light bulb here and there will not do. There are larger areas to cover, certain hazards to consider.

IT NEED not be terribly bright, so long as it is used wisely.

Where hazards are greatest, lights should be brightest. It is more important to have bright lights along outdoor steps than a walk.

Use lights in areas with greatest usage. Front walks as against a driveway, for example. Also consider the color of the paving. Light-colored paving would need less light than blacktop.

If you are close to the house, you are more likely to need light than at a distance. Stepping from a brightly - lighted interior, it may take a moment or two for your eyes to adjust to the darkness. In that moment you could have an accident.

In the house, many lamps sit on tables and give off light at eye level. Indoors, that's all right. Outdoors, avoid eye-level lighting. Place it either quite high to illuminate a large area, or quite low and concentrate it where it is needed most.

LIGHTS placed high should be floodlights. Arrange them so that the circles of light overlap. Floodlight bulbs in adjustable fixtures are easy to use for such installations.

Lights only two or three feet off the ground, such as those used to illuminate a path, should be shielded so that the light is aimed down. Space them so that there are no totally black areas.

Lights right at walk level must be even closer, about eight feet apart.

Outdoor steps should be lighted, even if nothing else is. A floodlight mounted high will take care of it. If you use lights at low level, you will need several.

The most important part of the driveway to illuminate is the area right in front of the garage.

This is where you get in and out of and load and unload the car. If the garage light is not sufficient, hang a floodlight on the outside of the garage or in a nearby tree.

—:—

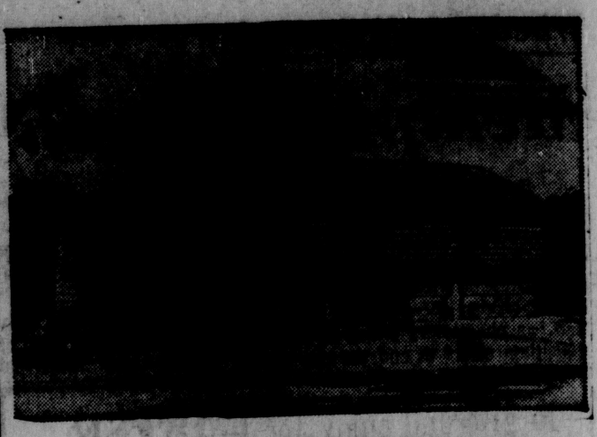

BEFORE going in for a permanent installation, experiment with light placement by running weatherproof extension cords around the yard. Use weatherproof lights and sockets as well.

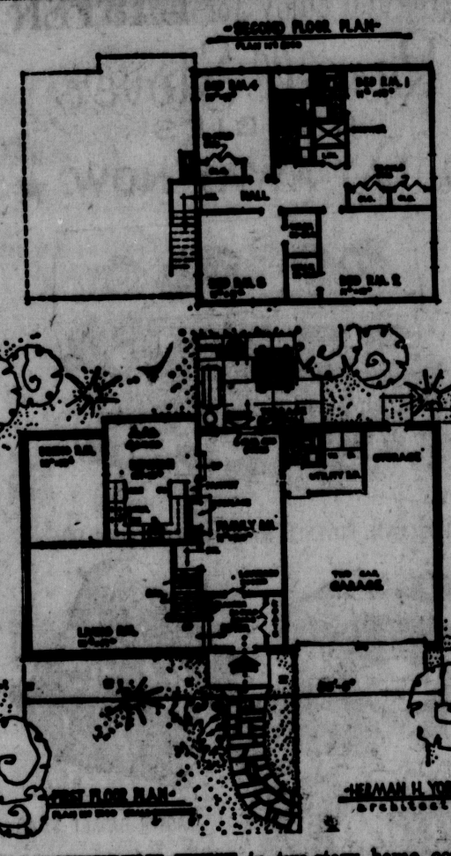

Permanent installation is best done by burying the electric cable. There are types that can be buried directly, saving you the cost of separate conduit, if the local code permits. You will need conduit where the cable comes up through the ground.

If you are not familiar with wiring procedures, you will want an electrician to make the final installation.

If you know a little about the procedure, perhaps you could hire an electrician to set up the new circuit and junction box at the house and run some or all of the wiring while you install the fixtures only.

Whatever method you use, one thing you can do for yourself is the advance planning.

A DIFFERENT TWIST in two-story home construction places the second floor over the slab portion of the house, rather than over the cellar. Advantages are two-fold. This reduces the number of steps between the living and bedroom levels and it reduces the over-all height of the house by more than a foot. Entrance is made from a covered portico. The family room is ideal for indoor-outdoor entertaining. Laundry room, lavatory and access to the garage are directly off the family room. Living room provides plenty of wall space for furniture placement. The second floor has four bedrooms, all double exposed. Architect is Herman York, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica, N. Y. 11432. Plan HA541Y has 653 square feet on the first floor and 980 on the second floor.

Public Willing To Pay For Features It Wants

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Is this the right time to buy a house? Read this:

"Barring a major economic collapse, which appears highly unlikely, there won't be any price drops in new houses regardless of whether there is an increase or a decrease in the number of houses built this year. Land is worth more than it ever was. Construction costs are high and possibly going higher. Builders forced to pay premiums to arrange financing will have to pass the extra charge along to the purchasers in one way or another. Buyers want all the modern conveniences and are willing to pay more for them."

THAT answers the question. If you want a house and can afford it, the time to buy is now. But do you know when that analysis was made? In an article we wrote on Feb. 18, 1960! Every word of it is still true. Especially that part about buyers wanting all the modern conveniences and being willing to pay more for them.

There are so many factors that enter into the cost of a house that it would be impossible to generalize about prices.

But experience has proved that, everything else being equal, buyers will pay from $500 to $3,000 extra for a house which contains the features they want, even when it brings the cost above what they originally intended to spend.

This is a wise practice for families whose pocketbooks can stand it, because it always costs more to have improvements made at a later time than it does during the original construction.

An excellent example of the willingness of the public to pay for what it wants — rather than accept what is offered because it is cheaper — has occurred in the vacation or second - home market.

The supposition of many builders was that a family wanted nothing but the bare necessities in a vacation home and, therefore, would not pay a good price for it. So they offered as little as possible and kept the prices very low. In some cases, in fact, they offered nothing more than a shell—and some companies still do.

IT SOON was discovered, however, that vacation or weekend houses which contained most of the comforts of year-round homes sold much faster than the skeleton-like structures even though the prices were considerably higher.

Most people, while professing a desire to "rough it," actually are in search of comfort in their days and weeks away from their regular homes. To meet this need, more and more builders are turning out second homes with all kinds of luxury touches — and selling them faster than they sold shells.

The public also is willing to pay more for good locations for vacation houses.

In one actual case, a builder constructed three rows of houses close to a body of water suitable for swimming and boating. One row of houses was 400 feet from the water, one was 300 feet and the third was 200 feet. Each house in the row 400 feet from the water cost $12,000. In the second row, the price was $15,000; and in the row closest to the water, it was $18,000. All houses were identical, yet a matter of 200 feet meant a price difference of $6,000. What happened? The more expensive houses in the row nearest the water sold the quickest.

Police Close Play In London, England

22 Homes Slated For Development Near Wellsville

Ralph D. Freshwater of Wintersville has announced some 22 new homes will be constructed this spring and summer at Skyview Acres along Route 39, five miles west of Wellsville.

Five houses are now under construction at the site where six homes have been built in the past, and 17 more are scheduled, Freshwater said.

He said the development is planned to meet what he said will be a demand for housing in the Wellsville area after a number of houses will be purchased and demolished in connection with the Route 7 highway relocation in Wellsville.

The new homes, he said, are designed for families which have outgrown smaller houses. The houses will feature a family room, three baths, two garages and a dining room on lots 100 by 200 feet. Walks, seeding, shrubs and a patio are included.

The homes will be of Colonial design.

Parma Building Hit By $125,000 Blaze

CLEVELAND (AP) — Five families were evacuated from second - floor apartments and three ground - floor business places were damaged Sunday in a fire at a two-story brick commercial and residential building at State Road and Lincoln Avenue in Parma. Damage was estimated at $125,000 by Parma Fire Chief Leonard Ott.

The Parma Meat Market, where the fire started from undetermined cause, was most heavily damaged. Baker Auto Supply and Callahan's Heating also had loss. No one was injured.

Parishoners Ignore Pleas Of The Pastor

MOSQUERO, N.M. (AP) — Parishoners at St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church failed to listen to their pastor Sunday, voting 28-1 not to remove an old winemill that blocks the view from the priest's bedroom.

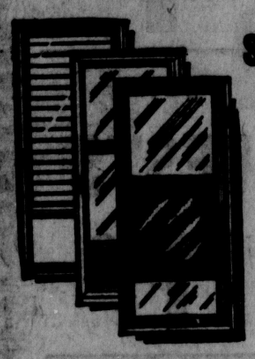

The Rev. Wilford Savard said he was the only one voting to remove the unused windmill that some townspeople want kept for sentimental reasons. He said the windmill not only blocked his view but might topple on the rectory.

Father Savard said he held a discussion with the congregation after Mass Sunday and then took a secret ballot.

Condominiums Have Appeal

Here's New Way Of Life

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

A new way of life — condominium living — is springing up across the United States. Its concept appeals particularly to retirement couples.

It utilizes city and country property to the fullest and differs from cooperative and "complex" apartment life in that you have a warranty deed for your own dwelling.

City dwellings, such as one in Chicago, where land is expensive, are likely to be on the high-rise apartment idea. A condominium development may be part of a vast area planned to include townhouses, single-family homes and high - rise apartments such as one in Cleveland.

Or, it can develop into a village, such as a 2,000 unit one on 910 acres of beautiful rolling countryside at Southbury, Conn. The buildings are in clusters, two units or more to each building.

—:—

WHAT IS IT that attracts many well-to-do people in independent communities to give up their large homes and embrace a new way of life that appears to be regimented?

For one thing, as people grow older, they want more quiet, fewer home chores and easy access to recreation.

Southbury satisfies those needs. The only chores are maintenance, parking facilities, landscaping, snow removal, are supplied. In addition, you know where you are financially, one retirement tenant explained.

A fixed monthly payment that ranges from $85 to $135 depending on the size of the dwelling pays the costs of utilities, water, taxes, security and maintenance. Insurance is provided.

The atmosphere is tranquil and resembles a restored historical retreat, perhaps one that sprang up after the Pootatuck Indians left the area. There are no poles or utility wires. There is no noise as there are no highways within earshot. Buildings are nestled into the natural setting. There were no bulldozers to leave the imprint of modern excavation.

There are glimpses of wild ducks on ponds and lakes, deer peeping through brush, sheep grazing, horses in a corral, trout in brooks. The condominium owner at Heritage Village has nothing more to do than enjoy.

ARCHITECT Charles Warren Callister, who won an award for a retirement village at Walnut Creek, Calif., did the plan. Seven hundred acres of it were formerly owned by Victor Borge. The woodtoned houses seem especially dyed to blend in with the terrain. Borge's house, formerly the home of antiquarian Wallace Nutting, is now used as a meeting house.

"There are close to a thousand units of an eventual 2,000," explains Henry Paparazzo, one of a three - brother building team. Otto, a graduate of Rhode Island School of Design, handles the aesthetic side, Frank is site man, Henry studied to be a geologist, but he is the administrator.

The village will not make a profit for perhaps 12 years, Henry explains. They spent $8 million — one million of it for sewers — before the first person moved in. Their partner in finance is an insurance company that "can provide availability and capability" — the amount of money to be expended doesn't deter them.

"We found a great architect who helped us in our aim to design total environment to satisfy the needs of an adult community. The response has been fantastic," Henry says.

Units range in price from about $19,000 to $33,000. One in the $19,000 price range is a two-bedroom two-bath unit.

THE PLANNING makes you unaware that the building is shared.

An inn and restaurant on the grounds is run by Maurice Brockway, widely known in Bucks County, Pa., and New York hostelries. He has just written "Come Cook with Me." On a recent visit, "Brock" was in the kitchen whipping up crab meat crepes and bragging that he was turning customers away. Many people use the Inn for guests, dinner parties, entertainment.

Golf, horseback riding and tennis are available for those who want to keep active. There is trout fishing.

There are arts, crafts and educational programs in cooperation with the University of Connecticut. Many of the retired owners pursue their former work interests — an ex - war correspondent edits the newspaper. Author Patricia Roberts conducts classes in flower arranging.

At first, Southbury's residents (5,000) didn't go for the condominium village, but eventually, realizing it would not necessitate new schools and raise taxes, they discarded their zoning regulations to adopt it. No family with children under 18 is accepted at Heritage.

The Paparazzos try to keep their various real estate enterprises in Connecticut on a social and economic level that will be pleasing to all. Occasionally they tell people "you will not be compatible here." They have even been boxed in with their own regulations.

"It took months to get our own mother into an apartment in one of our buildings," Henry explains.

Blanket Insulation Called 'Excellent, Economical'

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

There are many types of insulation available today, but in my opinion blanket insulation made of inorganic material and covered with moisture - proof covering is about the best for the average home owner.

The modern blanket insulation comes in rolls of exactly the proper width to fit between wall studs or the rafters of any house built according to correct building practice.

Both sides of the insulation have a flange which permits it to be stapled to the studs or rafters with speed and ease. Aside from the stapling tool, the only other equipment needed is a sharp scissors or a keen knife to cut the roll to correct lengths.

Good blanket insulation is two inches thick and when stapled to the inner face of a stud or rafter it leaves a two-inch air space between the inside face of the sheathing and the outside face of the blanket, thus providing for the evaporation of any moisture which might accumulate on the sheathing and cause dampness.

Another good feature of blanket insulation is that it can be cut into small pieces which may be tucked around window or louver frames and so present a tight job against loss of heat or draft from the outside. In other words, pieces of it can be used as caulking in odd corners or along the joint between attic floor and the sloping lower end of the roof.

Blanket insulation is made of many materials, but the most satisfactory of all is the material which is vermin - proof, non-absorbent and fireproof. Before we knew as much about insulation as we know today, it was not unusual to find home owners using a material which was quite attractive to mice and insects, with the result that they bred in it and became a serious pest. Today's best insulation is vermin and insect repelling.

Goose Eggs Saved From Rising Waters

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — State and federal crews will begin Operation Mother Goose Thursday.

They will use boats and helicopters to lift more than 1,000 goose eggs from their nests before water begins backing up behind the John Day Dam on the Columbia River.

The eggs will be taken to Kennewich, Wash., for artificial incubation. After the geese hatch, they will be placed in nests along the Columbia.

In 1968, spring arrived at 8:22 a. m. Eastern Standard Time on Wednesday, March 20.

Condensation Brings Query

Question: We are having our bathroom redone soon, including replacement of the toilet fixtures.

For years we have had trouble with the formation of condensation on the outside of the water tank above the toilet bowl. We have followed various suggestions for correcting this condition, with some trouble and a moderate degree of success. Now we would like to end the problem once and for all.

Someone has suggested a double tank. Can you tell us what this is and whether it will help?

ANSWER: Condensation forms on the outside of a water tank when warm, moist air hits the cold surface of the tank. A bathroom with an exhaust fan of some sort never has this trouble, since the fan quickly removes the moist air from the room.

The so-called double tank which you heard about is just that: one tank inside another, with an air space between. Since the outside tank does not get very cold, the moist air does not condense on its surface.

However, there are many other ways in which condensation can be prevented from forming.

Another type of tank, for instance, has an inner lining which keeps the cold water from cooling the tank's outer surface. We suggest, therefore, that you have your plumbing contractor advise you of what is available on the market and where this equipment can be seen.

At the very least, he should be able to obtain a brochure which displays the different kinds of tanks and explains the advantage of each. If you have the money and the pipes in your house are of the proper size, you might even consider a flush arrangement which does away with the tank entirely.

QUESTION: We have been told that the insufficient water pressure in our old house is caused by a buildup of mineral deposits which has shrunk the inside of the pipes. Is this true?

—:—

ANSWER: On that little information, nobody could answer the question. We suggest that you contact your water utility company and ask it to make an inspection to determine whether water pressure from the outside into your house is sufficient.

It it is, then the trouble might be inside the house pipes. But only a personal examination by a professional will disclose the precise reason.

Condominiums Have Appeal

Here's New Way Of Life

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

A new way of life — condominium living — is springing up across the United States. Its concept appeals particularly to retirement couples.

It utilizes city and country property to the fullest and differs from cooperative and "complex" apartment life in that you have a warranty deed for your own dwelling.

City dwellings, such as one in Chicago, where land is expensive, are likely to be on the high-rise apartment idea. A condominium development may be part of a vast area planned to include townhouses, single-family homes and high - rise apartments such as one in Cleveland.

Or, it can develop into a village, such as a 2,000 unit one on 910 acres of beautiful rolling countryside at Southbury, Conn. The buildings are in clusters, two units or more to each building.

—:—

WHAT IS IT that attracts many well-to-do people in independent communities to give up their large homes and embrace a new way of life that appears to be regimented?

For one thing, as people grow older, they want more quiet, fewer home chores and easy access to recreation.

Southbury satisfies those needs. The only chores are maintenance, parking facilities, landscaping, snow removal, are supplied. In addition, you know where you are financially, one retirement tenant explained.

A fixed monthly payment that ranges from $85 to $135 depending on the size of the dwelling pays the costs of utilities, water, taxes, security and maintenance. Insurance is provided.

The atmosphere is tranquil and resembles a restored historical retreat, perhaps one that sprang up after the Pootatuck Indians left the area. There are no poles or utility wires. There is no noise as there are no highways within earshot. Buildings are nestled into the natural setting. There were no bulldozers to leave the imprint of modern excavation.

There are glimpses of wild ducks on ponds and lakes, deer peeping through brush, sheep grazing, horses in a corral, trout in brooks. The condominium owner at Heritage Village has nothing more to do than enjoy.

ARCHITECT Charles Warren Callister, who won an award for a retirement village at Walnut Creek, Calif., did the plan. Seven hundred acres of it were formerly owned by Victor Borge. The woodtoned houses seem especially dyed to blend in with the terrain. Borge's house, formerly the home of antiquarian Wallace Nutting, is now used as a meeting house.

"There are close to a thousand units of an eventual 2,000," explains Henry Paparazzo, one of a three - brother building team. Otto, a graduate of Rhode Island School of Design, handles the aesthetic side, Frank is site man, Henry studied to be a geologist, but he is the administrator.

The village will not make a profit for perhaps 12 years, Henry explains. They spent $8 million — one million of it for sewers — before the first person moved in. Their partner in finance is an insurance company that "can provide availability and capability" — the amount of money to be expended doesn't deter them.

"We found a great architect who helped us in our aim to design total environment to satisfy the needs of an adult community. The response has been fantastic," Henry says.

Units range in price from about $19,000 to $33,000. One in the $19,000 price range is a two-bedroom two-bath unit.

THE PLANNING makes you unaware that the building is shared.

An inn and restaurant on the grounds is run by Maurice Brockway, widely known in Bucks County, Pa., and New York hostelries. He has just written "Come Cook with Me." On a recent visit, "Brock" was in the kitchen whipping up crab meat crepes and bragging that he was turning customers away. Many people use the Inn for guests, dinner parties, entertainment.

Golf, horseback riding and tennis are available for those who want to keep active. There is trout fishing.

There are arts, crafts and educational programs in cooperation with the University of Connecticut. Many of the retired owners pursue their former work interests — an ex - war correspondent edits the newspaper. Author Patricia Roberts conducts classes in flower arranging.

At first, Southbury's residents (5,000) didn't go for the condominium village, but eventually, realizing it would not necessitate new schools and raise taxes, they discarded their zoning regulations to adopt it. No family with children under 18 is accepted at Heritage.

The Paparazzos try to keep their various real estate enterprises in Connecticut on a social and economic level that will be pleasing to all. Occasionally they tell people "you will not be compatible here." They have even been boxed in with their own regulations.

"It took months to get our own mother into an apartment in one of our buildings," Henry explains.

Blanket Insulation Called 'Excellent, Economical'

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

There are many types of insulation available today, but in my opinion blanket insulation made of inorganic material and covered with moisture - proof covering is about the best for the average home owner.

2 Men Jailed On 5 Charges

Two men facing a total of five charges as an aftermath of an incident Friday afternoon at a Fawcett St. home drew 10-day County Jail terms and fines today when they pleaded guilty to all counts before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Frank Schmidt of 512 Walnut St. and Norman Stearns of 135 W. 2nd St. were taken into custody at 5:51 p. m. Friday at a tavern after the alleged incident at the home of Calvin E. Cramer of 169 Fawcett St.

Schmidt was given concurrent 10-day jail terms on charges of trespassing and assault on Cramer and fined $25 and costs on an intoxication charge. Stearns also was given a 10-day term on a trespassing charge and fined $25 and costs on an intoxication charge.

Cramer told the judge the men entered his home while he was at City Hospital visiting his daughter, who resides with him. They refused to leave when asked and Schmidt received a black eye in a struggle.

Patrolman Dwight Garvey, one of the arresting officers, told the court Schmidt is the "boy friend" of Cramer's daughter. Schmidt may have believed he was entering the daughter's apartment, which is in the same building, he said.

Police said the two men fled after Schmidt struggled with Cramer and later were apprehended at the Buckeye Tavern on Dresden Ave. Stearns told police his role in the incident took place because he drove Schmidt to the home.

Halley's Comet made its last appearance on May 18, 1910, and is due to reappear in 1986.

Ambassador Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Edward Crocker, 72, former U.S. ambassador to Iraq and the man who received in Tokyo the official Japanese declaration of war in 1941, died Saturday after a long illness.

2 Shootings Investigated

LISBON — Columbiana County's sheriff's deputies investigated two accidental shootings over the weekend.

Robert W. Sherwood, 26, of the Minerva Hotel, Minerva, is in guarded condition at Salem City Hospital with a .22-caliber bullet wound in the abdomen.

Harold E. Reese, 20, of Beloit RD 2 lost the tip of his right index finger Sunday and was unable to report for induction this morning at Draft Board 16.

The hospital notified the sheriff's office that Sherwood was admitted at 4:45 p.m. Saturday and was being prepared for surgery.

Deputy Robert Wellington has been unable to talk to the man, but did question two companions who were only about 30 feet away when the rifle discharged.

The deputy said Glenn Pitts Jr. and Arnold Edmond told him the three of them were on the Pitts property near Route 644 in the Hanoverton - Kensington area. Pitts and Edmond said they were digging for fishing worms and Sherwood was target shooting with the rifle. They said they heard a shot, then heard Sherwood yell that he had been hit. They carried him to the highway and called an ambulance.

Alliance City Hospital phoned the jail at 1:25 p.m. Sunday to report treating young Reese. By the time a deputy arrived, the youth was not around and the only information the nurse had was that he had a gunshot wound of the right index finger.

Deputies talked to the youth's father, Norman Reese, who told him the boy was alone in the cellar cleaning a shotgun when it went off.

More Depart For Induction

LISBON — New Easter outfits with a GI label are awaiting the 19 young men Columbiana County Selective Service Board 16 forwarded to the Cleveland induction center this morning.

They and 11 men scheduled for pre-induction physical examinations left Lisbon aboard four special buses.

Mrs. Elaine Griffith, board clerk, said the buses, dispatched from Pittsburgh, were 45 minutes late. The drivers reported they had to detour because they could not get across the bridge at East Liverpool.

April inductees follow by communities:

East Liverpool — Larry A. Barnes, 128 W. Church Ln.; Danny C. Smith, Westfield Rd.; Elmer F. Lilly, 679 Riley Ave.; William Loy, Cannons Mills, RD 1; Clement H. Rall Jr., Auburn St., Station A; Larry J. Tice, Dome St., RD 4; Michael S. McDevitt, 307 W. 9th St.; Delbert E. Cunningham, 900½ St. Clair Ave.; Michael E. Green, 4th Ave., LaCroft, and Dennis R. Van Meter, Shadyside Ave., RD 1.

Hammondsville — Joseph L. Brown. Lisbon — Homer D. Phillips, RD 1, and Donald R. Carlisle, RD 3. Columbiana — Lloyd A. Grate, MC 1, and John R. Rhodes Jr., RD 2.

New Waterford — Jerry L. Metze. East Palestine — Robert L. Barnhouse, Youngstown, formerly of East Palestine.

News Of Area Residents In Armed Forces

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reckner of East Liverpool have received a call from their son-in-law and daughter, Air Force Sgt. and Mrs. Lester Brock, stationed at the Rhein-Mainz Air Base in Germany.

The couple became parents of a son March 9. Brock is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Shaw of the Annesley Rd. The mother is the former Sandra Reckner. She has been in Germany about one year. They will return to the States next February.

Pfc. Ross W. Lyle, 21, son of Mrs. Betty Hyde of 728 Oak St., has returned to his company after receiving the Purple Heart for wounds suffered Jan. 31 in action near Saigon.

His group received the Legion of Merit Medal and the Bronze Star with the Silver Cross for the action.

Lyle, who volunteered for Viet duty, previously was stationed in Germany for six months.

Marine Cpl. Ken Davidson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davidson of Hammondsville, is stationed at El Toro, Calif., for training before leaving for Vietnam. He recently spent five days at home.

A graduate of Stanton Local High School, he attended the Ohio Valley Business College and worked for the H. K. Porter Co.

Donald Edgar, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edgar of 1515 Allison St., has been promoted to corporal and received his wings as a paratrooper.

He is now in non-commissioned officers' training school at Ft. Benning, Ga.

He was a member of the ROTC at East Liverpool High School, where he was graduated in 1967. He joined the service last August.

Crash Hurts 4 Area Men

Three area men remained hospitalized today with injuries suffered Saturday when their car careened off Little Blue Rd. between Chester and Hookstown and overturned in a field.

Injured were Roy Cox of 504 4th St., Chester, the driver, and William Goldinger, 23, of Georgetown RD 1, Norman Boyd, 23, of 1048 Dresden Ave., and Floyd Allison, 26, of Shippingport.

Pennsylvania state police at Chippewa said Cox, 23, was headed west in a 1963 sedan at a high rate of speed when the auto veered off the road at a curve and upset.

Cox is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with injuries of the spine. Allison is "fairly good" with a back injury and Boyd is "good" with bruises of the back, lacerations of the back, multiple superficial cuts and abrasions and bruises of the arm.

Goldinger was released after treatment for a cut foot.

Damage to the auto was estimated at $900, officers said.

Rebecca S. Dawson, daughter of Millard Dawson of Hookstown, is "satisfactory" at the hospital with injuries suffered when her car struck a guardrail along a road near the South Side School Sunday.

She suffered bruises of the back. Authorities said she apparently swerved the car to avoid striking a dog.

2 Men Jailed On 5 Charges

Two men facing a total of five charges as an aftermath of an incident Friday afternoon at a Fawcett St. home drew 10-day County Jail terms and fines today when they pleaded guilty to all counts before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Frank Schmidt of 512 Walnut St. and Norman Stearns of 135 W. 2nd St. were taken into custody at 5:51 p. m. Friday at a tavern after the alleged incident at the home of Calvin E. Cramer of 169 Fawcett St.

Schmidt was given concurrent 10-day jail terms on charges of trespassing and assault on Cramer and fined $25 and costs on an intoxication charge. Stearns also was given a 10-day term on a trespassing charge and fined $25 and costs on an intoxication charge.

Cramer told the judge the men entered his home while he was at City Hospital visiting his daughter, who resides with him. They refused to leave when asked and Schmidt received a black eye in a struggle.

Patrolman Dwight Garvey, one of the arresting officers, told the court Schmidt is the "boy friend" of Cramer's daughter. Schmidt may have believed he was entering the daughter's apartment, which is in the same building, he said.

Police said the two men fled after Schmidt struggled with Cramer and later were apprehended at the Buckeye Tavern on Dresden Ave. Stearns told police his role in the incident took place because he drove Schmidt to the home.

Halley's Comet made its last appearance on May 18, 1910, and is due to reappear in 1986.

Ambassador Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Edward Crocker, 72, former U.S. ambassador to Iraq and the man who received in Tokyo the official Japanese declaration of war in 1941, died Saturday after a long illness.

2 Shootings Investigated

LISBON — Columbiana County's sheriff's deputies investigated two accidental shootings over the weekend.

Robert W. Sherwood, 26, of the Minerva Hotel, Minerva, is in guarded condition at Salem City Hospital with a .22-caliber bullet wound in the abdomen.

Harold E. Reese, 20, of Beloit RD 2 lost the tip of his right index finger Sunday and was unable to report for induction this morning at Draft Board 16.

The hospital notified the sheriff's office that Sherwood was admitted at 4:45 p.m. Saturday and was being prepared for surgery.

Deputy Robert Wellington has been unable to talk to the man, but did question two companions who were only about 30 feet away when the rifle discharged.

The deputy said Glenn Pitts Jr. and Arnold Edmond told him the three of them were on the Pitts property near Route 644 in the Hanoverton - Kensington area. Pitts and Edmond said they were digging for fishing worms and Sherwood was target shooting with the rifle. They said they heard a shot, then heard Sherwood yell that he had been hit. They carried him to the highway and called an ambulance.

Alliance City Hospital phoned the jail at 1:25 p.m. Sunday to report treating young Reese. By the time a deputy arrived, the youth was not around and the only information the nurse had was that he had a gunshot wound of the right index finger.

Deputies talked to the youth's father, Norman Reese, who told him the boy was alone in the cellar cleaning a shotgun when it went off.

More Depart For Induction

LISBON — New Easter outfits with a GI label are awaiting the 19 young men Columbiana County Selective Service Board 16 forwarded to the Cleveland induction center this morning.

They and 11 men scheduled for pre-induction physical examinations left Lisbon aboard four special buses.

Mrs. Elaine Griffith, board clerk, said the buses, dispatched from Pittsburgh, were 45 minutes late. The drivers reported they had to detour because they could not get across the bridge at East Liverpool.

April inductees follow by communities:

East Liverpool — Larry A. Barnes, 128 W. Church Ln.; Danny C. Smith, Westfield Rd.; Elmer F. Lilly, 679 Riley Ave.; William Loy, Cannons Mills, RD 1; Clement H. Rall Jr., Auburn St., Station A; Larry J. Tice, Dome St., RD 4; Michael S. McDevitt, 307 W. 9th St.; Delbert E. Cunningham, 900½ St. Clair Ave.; Michael E. Green, 4th Ave., LaCroft, and Dennis R. Van Meter, Shadyside Ave., RD 1.

Hammondsville — Joseph L. Brown. Lisbon — Homer D. Phillips, RD 1, and Donald R. Carlisle, RD 3. Columbiana — Lloyd A. Grate, MC 1, and John R. Rhodes Jr., RD 2.

New Waterford — Jerry L. Metze. East Palestine — Robert L. Barnhouse, Youngstown, formerly of East Palestine.

Salem — Mark C. Scullion, Franklin RD 3. Homeworth — Mark E. Himes, RD 1.

News Of Area Residents In Armed Forces

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reckner of East Liverpool have received a call from their son-in-law and daughter, Air Force Sgt. and Mrs. Lester Brock, stationed at the Rhein-Mainz Air Base in Germany.

The couple became parents of a son March 9. Brock is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Shaw of the Annesley Rd. The mother is the former Sandra Reckner. She has been in Germany about one year. They will return to the States next February.

Pfc. Ross W. Lyle, 21, son of Mrs. Betty Hyde of 728 Oak St., has returned to his company after receiving the Purple Heart for wounds suffered Jan. 31 in action near Saigon.

His group received the Legion of Merit Medal and the Bronze Star with the Silver Cross for the action.

Lyle, who volunteered for Viet duty, previously was stationed in Germany for six months.

Marine Cpl. Ken Davidson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davidson of Hammondsville, is stationed at El Toro, Calif., for training before leaving for Vietnam. He recently spent five days at home.

A graduate of Stanton Local High School, he attended the Ohio Valley Business College and worked for the H. K. Porter Co.

Donald Edgar, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edgar of 1515 Allison St., has been promoted to corporal and received his wings as a paratrooper.

He is now in non-commissioned officers' training school at Ft. Benning, Ga.

He was a member of the ROTC at East Liverpool High School, where he was graduated in 1967. He joined the service last August.

Crash Hurts 4 Area Men

Three area men remained hospitalized today with injuries suffered Saturday when their car careened off Little Blue Rd. between Chester and Hookstown and overturned in a field.

Injured were Roy Cox of 504 4th St., Chester, the driver, and William Goldinger, 23, of Georgetown RD 1, Norman Boyd, 23, of 1048 Dresden Ave., and Floyd Allison, 26, of Shippingport.

Pennsylvania state police at Chippewa said Cox, 23, was headed west in a 1963 sedan at a high rate of speed when the auto veered off the road at a curve and upset.

Cox is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with injuries of the spine. Allison is "fairly good" with a back injury and Boyd is "good" with bruises of the back, lacerations of the back, multiple superficial cuts and abrasions and bruises of the arm.

Goldinger was released after treatment for a cut foot.

Damage to the auto was estimated at $900, officers said.

Rebecca S. Dawson, daughter of Millard Dawson of Hookstown, is "satisfactory" at the hospital with injuries suffered when her car struck a guardrail along a road near the South Side School Sunday.

She suffered bruises of the back. Authorities said she apparently swerved the car to avoid striking a dog.

Local 318 (South Side) Wins Nonpareil Club Tourney

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Jim Brosnan once wrote a book about baseball called "The Long Season".

After this winter I could write a book with the same title — about basketball. Totalling the various contests I have attended this season, I come up with 137, certainly a new personal high, if nothing else. Basketball season is not yet over, as there are pro playoffs and independent tournaments, but I don't think I'll see any more games. Not that I'm tired of it. I enjoy the sport, and almost every game I attended was worth the trip.

The longest trip was to New York for the NIT. The longest drive was to Haverford, Pa., for the Haverford-Swarthmore gome. The most for the Haverford-Swarthmore game. The most each way in the fog on a Monday night, to see Kenyon and Hiram.

Of the 137 games, two were pro games, one in Pennsylvania and one in Ohio. There were 12 major college games, six in New York, three in Ohio and three in Pennsylvania. There were seven small college games, four in Pennsylvania and three in Ohio. There were five college freshmen games, four in Pennsylvania and one in Ohio. There were 10 independent games, seven in Ohio and three in Pennsylvania.

But the major factor was high school games. There were 67 of these, 47 in Ohio, 15 in Pennsylvania and five in West Virginia. There were 34 high school JV games, 26 in Ohio, five in West Virginia and three in Pennsylvania.

SOME OF the highlights of the season:

Best pro player — Connie Hawkins, Pittsburgh Pipers.

Best college player — Calvin Murphy, Niagara; Don May, Dayton; Ron Williams, W. Virginia.

Best college team — Dayton, Kansas.

Best leaper — Luther Green, LIU; George Thompson, Marquette; Alonzo (Nick) Connor, Columbus East.

Best high school player — Ralph Simpson, Detroit; John Fraley, Middletown.

Best high school team — Columbus East, Hamilton Garfield.

Most complete victory — East Liverpool over Warren Western Reserve.

Best comeback — East Liverpool against Steubenville Central (1st game).

Best clutch player — Earl Diddle, East Liverpool.

Most exciting game — Oak Glen over Weirton.

Best independent player — Dan Thomas, Palmer's Billiards.

Most exciting college game — Marquette over Bowling Green.

Best defensive performance — John Johnson of East Liverpool against Allen Hornyak of Bellaire St John's; Randy Smith of Columbus East against Al Vilcheck of Euclid.

Most effective big man — 6-10 Dan Obrovic of Dayton.

Best small-college player — John Rinka, Kenyon.

Biggest showboat — LaMonte Pruitt, Pittsburgh South; Andy McBride, Alliance.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S game at Memorial Auditorium was the last organized game scheduled there. I'm not the one to comment on the career of the M. A., being familiar with it only this season, but I do remember the first time I saw a game there. That was at the Blue andWhite Nonpareil Tourney in 1965, an extravaganza that had 16 teams, including the best of Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio. I came down with a team from Ellwood City, and saw six games in an evening, a record that still stands despite this past hectic year. The M. A. was jammed for the contests, a far cry from the sparse crowd of 60 or so on hand Saturday night.

DARRYL HERRING of East Liverpool is one of 67 athletes at Wittenberg who made a B average or better for the winter term.

DON OSBY of Steubenville, football, basketball and track star, has announced that he will attend the University of Iowa. Osby has won the state long jump championship twice.

TOM MONDELL of Ellwood City, all-state end, has accepted a football scholarship to the University of Cincinnati. Mondell is the brother of Jack Mondell, star end at Findlay.

Peden Selected Most Valuable

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Printers Local 318 (South Side and Midland) came from behind to defeat Bill Booth Little League (Steubenville) 76-72 and win the 21st Annual Blue and White Nonpareil Club Junior Basketball Tournament Saturday night at the Memorial Auditorium.

Bill Booth was hurt by a lack of depth, as two of its five players fouled out and it had to finish the game with only three men. Bill Booth was leading 68-60 when Lavert Freeman left the game with 5:08 to go, and it still had a 70-67 lead when Ray Szypulski fouled out with 1:50 remaining.

A basket by Dale Person cut the margin to one, but Dave Suba tossed in two fouls to make it 72-69 with 1:40 left. From that point on Local 318 prevented the losers from scoring. Frank Johnson made a foul shot and MVP Ron Peden tapped in the rebound to tie the contest with 1:12 left. Dan Hartzell made a follow-up shot to give Local 318 the lead for good with 45 seconds to go. Peden cashed two more fouls with 12 seconds to go and with four seconds left a technical was called on Jim Fonow and then the game was stopped as the Bill Booth bench continued to harangue the officials.

Freeman put on a superb show in a losing cause, connecting on 17 field goals in 27 attempts. At one point in the first half he hit nine in a row, mostly from outside. Szypulski and Suba each added 14 points and Szypulski grabbed 19 rebounds. Peden hit 30 for the winners, and coupled with his 26 in the opening 78-64 win over Kwik-Kleen he was high scorer for the tournament. Freeman had 10 as Bill Booth romped over Parson Coal 81-36 in the other semi-final game.

Johnson backed Peden with 17 in the final and Person and George Greene had 10 each. Green, 6-6 though only a freshman at Midland, had 17 rebounds and Peden 14. The rebounding and turnovers were virtually even, but the winners hit 45 per cent to 40 per cent and actually won the game at the foul line, hitting 14 of 30 compared to 8 of 12 for the losers.

Bill Booth broke a 6-6 tie with 10 straight points and never trailed until the very end. Its biggest lead was 60-46 late in the third period, but Local 318 had started to rally even before the losers became shorthanded. Don Charlton, South Side football and wrestling coach, handled the winners.

Kwik-Kleen had a terrible opening period and never could catch up in its semi-final against Local 318. The losers committed 10 turnovers in the first stanza and hit only 2 of 12 shots. They were held without a field goal until 2:18 remained in the period and trailed 17-4 at one point. Johnson led the early surge for Local 318 with seven points.

Local 318 steadily widened the gap until it was 49-24 early in the third period. The losers fought back and cut the edge to 60-48 early in the last quarter, but could come no closer. Peden's game - high 26 was backed by 18 each by Greene and Hartzell and 10 by Johnson. Tom McClain had 18 for the winners, Jerry Wyse 16 and Don Lacy 12. All-state John Kennedy of Springfield Local was a disappointment, hitting only 3 of 12 shots. He played a fine floor game and picked off 11 rebounds, however. McClain had 12 rebounds, while Greene swept the boards for 21 and Peden 13. The winners hit 47 per cent to 35 per cent by the losers.

The Parson Coal team was no match for a taller Bill Booth squad. Szypulski, 6-4, scored 29 points and pulled down an amazing 34 rebounds. Suba had 19 points, Fonow 12, Odis Sistrunk of Steubenville 11 and Freeman 10. Sistrunk grabbed 14 rebounds and Freeman 11 as Bill Booth had a 74-56 edge in this department. Don Hill had 10 grabs to pace the losers.

Parson hit only 1 of 19 shots in the first period and shot 20 per cent for the game. Vince Caparaucolo had 11 and Dick Maley 10 to lead the losers.

W. Virginia Recruits 7-Footer

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP) —West Virginia University's Bucky Waters has realized a basketball coach's dream: Waters has recruited a player so large that there's no uniform in stock to fit him.

The addition of 7-foot, 235-pound Mike Hetz of Garrett, Ind., High School was announced today.

"We don't have a uniform to fit him," Waters quipped, "but we're happy to be in a position to have to get one."

Hetz racked up a per game average of 26 points and 17 rebounds last season before suffering a broken bone in his leg midway through the year.

Astronomers say the sun is a rather average star.

Clark Killed In Race Crash

HOCKENHEIM, Germany (AP) — The auto racing world paid tribute today to Jim Clark, who was killed in a crash Sunday.

The 32-year-old Scot, winner of the Indianapolis 500 in 1965 and twice world driving champion, met death in the rain at the Hockenheim Motordrom when his Lotus Ford Cosworth skidded on wet asphalt.

His car, speeding along at 174 miles per hour, tore through a fence and hit a tree after turning over several times. Doctors at the nearby Heidelberg Hospital, where he was pronounced dead, said he had been killed instantly from a broken neck and a compound fracture of the skull.

A bachelor, Clark won a record 25 Grand Prix races and was the world champion in 1963 and 1965. Three of his Grand Prix victories came in the U.S. Grand Prix at Watkins Glen, N.Y., the last one in 1967. He set a record by winning seven Grand Prix races in a row in 1963.

"Jim Clark may well have been the greatest driver of all time," said Wilfred Andrews, chairman of the Royal Automobile Club in London.

"Clark was unquestionably the greatest racing driver in the world," said Andy Granatelli in Indianapolis. Granatelli is president of the company which sponsored Clark's Lotus cars in 1966 and 1967 and for whom Clark was to have driven in the Indy 500 this year.

Clark's body will be flown to Edinburg, Scotland, where the funeral will be held Wednesday.

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — U.S. Olympic basketball Coach Henry Iba of Oklahoma State feels foreign competition will be plenty rough and mighty tall.

A 12-man U.S. team was named Sunday, banking more on quickness than on size.

The Olympic trials ended Saturday night with the NAIA All-Stars whipping a cold-shooting AAU team 64-59 in the title game. More than 80 players were considered in the three-day tournament in Albuquerque.

A 45-man committee picked this team:

NAIA—Glynn Saulters, 6-foot-2, 175 pounds, Northeast Louisiana; Don Dee, 6-7, 205, St. Mary of the Plains, Kan.

AAU—Calvin Fowler, 6-1, 170, Akron, Ohio, Goodyear; James King, 6-7, Goodyears.

Junior College All-Stars—Spencer Haywood, 6-8, 230, Trinidad, Colo., Junior College.

Armed Forces—Mike Barrett, 6-2, 155, U.S. Navy and former West Virginia Tech collegian; John R. Clawson, 6-4, 200, U.S. Army and Michigan; Mike Silliman, 6-6, 225, U.S. Army and U.S. Military Academy.

NCAA—Ken Spain, 6-9, 2 Houston; Jo Jo White, 6-3, 194, Kansas; Bill Hosket, 6-7, 228, Ohio State, Charlie Scott, 6-4, 180, North Carolina.

Alternates—Don Issel, Kentucky, Tom Black, Goodyears, George Carter, U.S. Army; Charles Paulk, Northeastern Oklahoma; Rick Mount, Purdue; and Joe Hamilton, Southwest Christian, Tex.

Iba said the 12 first-team selections will gather at Alamosa, Colo., in early September and four weeks of high-altitude training before exhibition games against professional teams in New York's Madison Square Garden, Cincinnati and possibly Albuquerque.

Dancer's Image New Threat

Over 30 Horses May Enter Kentucky Derby

By BOB COOPER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The calendar says this is the time of year when the list of Kentucky Derby probable starters should be getting shorter—thinning to about a dozen, more or less.

Unfortunately, horses can't read calendars.

With the May 4 classic at Churchill Downs less than four weeks away, there still are nearly three dozen 3-year-olds knocking at the starting gate.

So far, the traditional prep races, designed to weed out the crop, have served only to emphasize the wide open aspect of America's most famous horse race.

Races at four tracks, spanning the nation, not only failed to thin the ranks Saturday, they may have added some names to the already jostly list.

Glover Foot and Verbatim failed to live up to expectations in the Governor's Gold Cup at Bowie. Verbatim still is in Derby contention, but Clever Foot is out of the Derby, trainer Bernie Bond said Sunday.

The Gold Cup running also produced Dancer's Image as a new threat. Owner Peter Fuller said the colt would be shipped to Kentucky sometime this week.

Captain's Gig made his 1968 debut impressively at Keeneland, but nipped Lithiot by a mere neck. Add another possible Derby starter.

Nodouble won the Arkansas Derby at Oaklawn, but isn't eligible for the Kentucky Derby. Alumanation Farm's Te Vega was just a length behind, however, perhaps prompting thoughts of Louisville.

Proper Proof took a half-length victory in the Gold Rush Stakes at Golden Gate Fields, boosting his Derby stock at least a notch.

Jim Brosnan once wrote a book about baseball called "The Long Season".

After this winter I could write a book with the same title — about basketball. Totalling the various contests I have attended this season, I come up with 137, certainly a new personal high, if nothing else. Basketball season is not yet over, as there are pro playoffs and independent tournaments, but I don't think I'll see any more games. Not that I'm tired of it. I enjoy the sport, and almost every game I attended was worth the trip.

The longest trip was to New York for the NIT. The longest drive was to Haverford, Pa., for the Haverford-Swarthmore gome. The most for the Haverford-Swarthmore game. The most each way in the fog on a Monday night, to see Kenyon and Hiram.

Of the 137 games, two were pro games, one in Pennsylvania and one in Ohio. There were 12 major college games, six in New York, three in Ohio and three in Pennsylvania. There were seven small college games, four in Pennsylvania and three in Ohio. There were five college freshmen games, four in Pennsylvania and one in Ohio. There were 10 independent games, seven in Ohio and three in Pennsylvania.

But the major factor was high school games. There were 67 of these, 47 in Ohio, 15 in Pennsylvania and five in West Virginia. There were 34 high school JV games, 26 in Ohio, five in West Virginia and three in Pennsylvania.

SOME OF the highlights of the season:

Best pro player — Connie Hawkins, Pittsburgh Pipers.

Best college player — Calvin Murphy, Niagara; Don May, Dayton; Ron Williams, W. Virginia.

Best college team — Dayton, Kansas.

Best leaper — Luther Green, LIU; George Thompson, Marquette; Alonzo (Nick) Connor, Columbus East.

Best high school player — Ralph Simpson, Detroit; John Fraley, Middletown.

Best high school team — Columbus East, Hamilton Garfield.

Most complete victory — East Liverpool over Warren Western Reserve.

Best comeback — East Liverpool against Steubenville Central (1st game).

Best clutch player — Earl Diddle, East Liverpool.

Most exciting game — Oak Glen over Weirton.

Best independent player — Dan Thomas, Palmer's Billiards.

Most exciting college game — Marquette over Bowling Green.

Best defensive performance — John Johnson of East Liverpool against Allen Hornyak of Bellaire St John's; Randy Smith of Columbus East against Al Vilcheck of Euclid.

Most effective big man — 6-10 Dan Obrovic of Dayton.

Best small-college player — John Rinka, Kenyon.

Biggest showboat — LaMonte Pruitt, Pittsburgh South; Andy McBride, Alliance.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S game at Memorial Auditorium was the last organized game scheduled there. I'm not the one to comment on the career of the M. A., being familiar with it only this season, but I do remember the first time I saw a game there. That was at the Blue andWhite Nonpareil Tourney in 1965, an extravaganza that had 16 teams, including the best of Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio. I came down with a team from Ellwood City, and saw six games in an evening, a record that still stands despite this past hectic year. The M. A. was jammed for the contests, a far cry from the sparse crowd of 60 or so on hand Saturday night.

DARRYL HERRING of East Liverpool is one of 67 athletes at Wittenberg who made a B average or better for the winter term.

DON OSBY of Steubenville, football, basketball and track star, has announced that he will attend the University of Iowa. Osby has won the state long jump championship twice.

TOM MONDELL of Ellwood City, all-state end, has accepted a football scholarship to the University of Cincinnati. Mondell is the brother of Jack Mondell, star end at Findlay.

Peden Selected Most Valuable

By TURK PIERCE

Printers Local 318 (South Side and Midland) came from behind to defeat Bill Booth Little League (Steubenville) 76-72 and win the 21st Annual Blue and White Nonpareil Club Junior Basketball Tournament Saturday night at the Memorial Auditorium.

Bill Booth was hurt by a lack of depth, as two of its five players fouled out and it had to finish the game with only three men. Bill Booth was leading 68-60 when Lavert Freeman left the game with 5:08 to go, and it still had a 70-67 lead when Ray Szypulski fouled out with 1:50 remaining.

A basket by Dale Person cut the margin to one, but Dave Suba tossed in two fouls to make it 72-69 with 1:40 left. From that point on Local 318 prevented the losers from scoring. Frank Johnson made a foul shot and MVP Ron Peden tapped in the rebound to tie the contest with 1:12 left. Dan Hartzell made a follow-up shot to give Local 318 the lead for good with 45 seconds to go. Peden cashed two more fouls with 12 seconds to go and with four seconds left a technical was called on Jim Fonow and then the game was stopped as the Bill Booth bench continued to harangue the officials.

Freeman put on a superb show in a losing cause, connecting on 17 field goals in 27 attempts. At one point in the first half he hit nine in a row, mostly from outside. Szypulski and Suba each added 14 points and Szypulski grabbed 19 rebounds. Peden hit 30 for the winners, and coupled with his 26 in the opening 78-64 win over Kwik-Kleen he was high scorer for the tournament. Freeman had 10 as Bill Booth romped over Parson Coal 81-36 in the other semi-final game.

Johnson backed Peden with 17 in the final and Person and George Greene had 10 each. Green, 6-6 though only a freshman at Midland, had 17 rebounds and Peden 14. The rebounding and turnovers were virtually even, but the winners hit 45 per cent to 40 per cent and actually won the game at the foul line, hitting 14 of 30 compared to 8 of 12 for the losers.

Bill Booth broke a 6-6 tie with 10 straight points and never trailed until the very end. Its biggest lead was 60-46 late in the third period, but Local 318 had started to rally even before the losers became shorthanded. Don Charlton, South Side football and wrestling coach, handled the winners.

Kwik-Kleen had a terrible opening period and never could catch up in its semi-final against Local 318. The losers committed 10 turnovers in the first stanza and hit only 2 of 12 shots. They were held without a field goal until 2:18 remained in the period and trailed 17-4 at one point. Johnson led the early surge for Local 318 with seven points.

Local 318 steadily widened the gap until it was 49-24 early in the third period. The losers fought back and cut the edge to 60-48 early in the last quarter, but could come no closer. Peden's game - high 26 was backed by 18 each by Greene and Hartzell and 10 by Johnson. Tom McClain had 18 for the winners, Jerry Wyse 16 and Don Lacy 12. All-state John Kennedy of Springfield Local was a disappointment, hitting only 3 of 12 shots. He played a fine floor game and picked off 11 rebounds, however. McClain had 12 rebounds, while Greene swept the boards for 21 and Peden 13. The winners hit 47 per cent to 35 per cent by the losers.

The Parson Coal team was no match for a taller Bill Booth squad. Szypulski, 6-4, scored 29 points and pulled down an amazing 34 rebounds. Suba had 19 points, Fonow 12, Odis Sistrunk of Steubenville 11 and Freeman 10. Sistrunk grabbed 14 rebounds and Freeman 11 as Bill Booth had a 74-56 edge in this department. Don Hill had 10 grabs to pace the losers.

Parson hit only 1 of 19 shots in the first period and shot 20 per cent for the game. Vince Caparaucolo had 11 and Dick Maley 10 to lead the losers.

W. Virginia Recruits 7-Footer

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP) —West Virginia University's Bucky Waters has realized a basketball coach's dream: Waters has recruited a player so large that there's no uniform in stock to fit him.

The addition of 7-foot, 235-pound Mike Hetz of Garrett, Ind., High School was announced today.

"We don't have a uniform to fit him," Waters quipped, "but we're happy to be in a position to have to get one."

Hetz racked up a per game average of 26 points and 17 rebounds last season before suffering a broken bone in his leg midway through the year.

Clark Killed In Race Crash

HOCKENHEIM, Germany (AP) — The auto racing world paid tribute today to Jim Clark, who was killed in a crash Sunday.

The 32-year-old Scot, winner of the Indianapolis 500 in 1965 and twice world driving champion, met death in the rain at the Hockenheim Motordrom when his Lotus Ford Cosworth skidded on wet asphalt.

His car, speeding along at 174 miles per hour, tore through a fence and hit a tree after turning over several times. Doctors at the nearby Heidelberg Hospital, where he was pronounced dead, said he had been killed instantly from a broken neck and a compound fracture of the skull.

A bachelor, Clark won a record 25 Grand Prix races and was the world champion in 1963 and 1965. Three of his Grand Prix victories came in the U.S. Grand Prix at Watkins Glen, N.Y., the last one in 1967. He set a record by winning seven Grand Prix races in a row in 1963.

"Jim Clark may well have been the greatest driver of all time," said Wilfred Andrews, chairman of the Royal Automobile Club in London.

"Clark was unquestionably the greatest racing driver in the world," said Andy Granatelli in Indianapolis. Granatelli is president of the company which sponsored Clark's Lotus cars in 1966 and 1967 and for whom Clark was to have driven in the Indy 500 this year.

Clark's body will be flown to Edinburg, Scotland, where the funeral will be held Wednesday.

Maloney Shoulder Injury Latest Red Frustration

CINCINNATI (AP)—A tender right shoulder that irritates Cincinnati's big righthander Jim Maloney nearly each spring, has temporarily sidelined him again this year.

Maloney, who posted a 15-11 record last year with a 3.26 earned run average, doesn't seem too concerned about the shoulder trouble.

He will get a chance to prove what kind of shape it is in during workouts this week, knowing that if he passes the trials, he will start the Reds first road game at Atlanta on Good Friday.

Maloney receives cortisone injections every spring for his shoulder that stiffened Saturday during an exhibition game against the Oakland Athletics.

"He let it out during the pregame warmups and threw hard to the first batters," Manager Dave Bristol said about the 27-year-old Maloney.

Four hits and two bases on balls later, Maloney was lifted from the game which Cincinnati ended up coming from behind to win 6-5.

"It's still there," the Reds' pitcher quipped concerning his shoulder problems. "Don't worry about it," he said.

But Bristol has some reason to worry as frontliners Billy McCool and Gary Nolan are behind in conditioning and Nolan, bothered by a sore arm, has been optioned to the minors to get into shape.

A respiratory ailment and a military obligation have slowed down McCool.

On the positive side, Bristol is quite pleased by the relief work of veteran Ted Abernathy and newcomer Bill Kelso.

"I liked both of them," said the young manager. In their last outings, Kelso fanned five men in 3 1-3 innings and Abernathy was nearly untouchable in two frames.

Cincinnati, which closed the Grapefruit season with a National League leading record of 16-9, is conducting drills today and Tuesday in preparation for Wednesday's opening game against Chicago which was postponed from today.

L.A. Wants To Open Tuesday Night

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Philadelphia Phillies were caught in a rundown between Walter O'Malley and Warren Giles today as the Los Angeles Dodgers considered opening the 1968 baseball season all by themselves.

Los Angeles owner O'Malley was to decide today whether or not to go ahead with Tuesday night's scheduled home opener against Philadelphia—a game the Phillies have refused to play.

The Dodgers were left holding the ball Sunday when the St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago White Sox pushed back their Tuesday openers one day, joining seven other major league clubs which had postponed opening home games in deference to the memory of Dr. Martin Luther King.

Funeral services for the slain civil rights leader will be held Tuesday in Atlanta.

National League President Giles left it up to the Dodgers, as the home club, to decide whether to go through with their game.

John Quinn, the Phillies' general manager, said earlier his club would not take the field at Los Angeles Tuesday night, at the risk of a possible forfeit and fine—because of the King funeral that afternoon.

The other opening games in each league, including the presidential fixture at Washington, all were set for Wednesday.

President Johnson was expected to miss the Senators' debut against the Minnesota Twins—one of five afternoon openers in the American League. The White Sox entertain Cleveland, Boston's defending champions are at Detroit, the new Oakland Athletics at Baltimore and California at New York in other AL inaugurals.

The Chicago Cubs visit Cincinnati and the New York Mets are at San Francisco in National League afternoon games. Pittsburgh is at Houston and Atlanta at St. Louis under the lights.

While O'Malley and Bavasi pondered the possibility of opening the season without an opponent, LA Manager Walter Alston checked into an Inglewood, Calif., hospital Sunday for treatment of a kidney stone and the Dodgers whipped Cleveland 5-1 in the lone exhibition finale.

All the other exhibition games were canceled in line with the designation of Sunday as a day of mourning for Dr. King.

A Dodgers team physician said Alston, beginning his 15th season as dean of major league managers, has a stone in the right kidney. "As soon as it passes we'll let him go," said Dr. Robert Woods. He said doctors might use a tube to remove the stone if it had not passed today.

Yastrzemski Pessimistic About Red Sox Chances

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — A year ago Carl Yastrzemski drew polite smiles of friendly laughter when he predicted the Boston Red Sox would win the American League baseball pennant as 100-1 longshots.

Now the Triple Crown winner smiles politely in refusing to make any predictions on the 1968 flag chase.

"You just can't make any predictions on how we'll do at this time," Yaz said while waiting for his turn in the batting cage Sunday during a workout at Fenway Park.

"Last year I knew for sure the talent was there," he said. "We had (Tony) Conigliaro and Jim Lonborg healthy and ready at the start. Now things look bad for Tony, and Lonborg may miss the first month.

"We have too many ifs to make a sound prediction—but I'll guarantee that we'll be shooting for it all again."

Yastrzemski, who hit .326 with 44 homers and 121 runs batted in en route to the AL's Most Valuable Player award last season, pronounced himself fit for the start of the 1968 campaign.

Conigliaro suffered a cracked left cheekbone and a serious eye injury when struck by a fast ball thrown by California's Jack Hamilton last Aug. 18.

Lonborg's left knee was injured in a skiing accident Dec. 23.

Cleveland To Open Wednesday In Chicago

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Cleveland Indians' opener in Chicago was postponed Sunday because of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s funeral, giving the Tribe an unexpected day or two of vacation here.

The game now is scheduled for Wednesday at Chicago, instead of Tuesday.

Although Sunday was an official day of mourning for Dr. King, the Indians played and lost 5 - 1 an exhibition game against the Los Angeles Dodgers in San Diego. The Tribe's general manager, Gabe Paul, had considered canceling the game, but after consulting Cleveland Mayor Carl B. Stokes went ahead with it.

The Indians finished with an unimpressive exhibition season record of 12 victories and 17 losses. In the finale their only run off Don Drysdale was a homer by Duke Sims in the fourth inning.

Interest from the Cleveland point of view was the relief pitching of Tom Gramly and Ed Farmer who were trying to land in the one open spot on the Indians' roster. Gramly made it.

Just before the game, rookies Darrell Sutherland and Hal Kurtz, reliefers, were signed to Cleveland contracts by Vice President Hank Peters.

Two other freshman pitchers, Mike Paul, a lefty, and Farmer, will return to the minors, bringing the club roster down to the 25-player limit.

Gramly, who had been out of action a week with a sore shoulder, put the Dodgers down in order in the sixth and seventh innings and struck out two.

Maloney Shoulder Injury Latest Red Frustration

CINCINNATI (AP)—A tender right shoulder that irritates Cincinnati's big righthander Jim Maloney nearly each spring, has temporarily sidelined him again this year.

Maloney, who posted a 15-11 record last year with a 3.26 earned run average, doesn't seem too concerned about the shoulder trouble.

He will get a chance to prove what kind of shape it is in during workouts this week, knowing that if he passes the trials, he will start the Reds first road game at Atlanta on Good Friday.

Maloney receives cortisone injections every spring for his shoulder that stiffened Saturday during an exhibition game against the Oakland Athletics.

"He let it out during the pregame warmups and threw hard to the first batters," Manager Dave Bristol said about the 27-year-old Maloney.

Four hits and two bases on balls later, Maloney was lifted from the game which Cincinnati ended up coming from behind to win 6-5.

"It's still there," the Reds' pitcher quipped concerning his shoulder problems. "Don't worry about it," he said.

But Bristol has some reason to worry as frontliners Billy McCool and Gary Nolan are behind in conditioning and Nolan, bothered by a sore arm, has been optioned to the minors to get into shape.

A respiratory ailment and a military obligation have slowed down McCool.

On the positive side, Bristol is quite pleased by the relief work of veteran Ted Abernathy and newcomer Bill Kelso.

"I liked both of them," said the young manager. In their last outings, Kelso fanned five men in 3 1-3 innings and Abernathy was nearly untouchable in two frames.

Cincinnati, which closed the Grapefruit season with a National League leading record of 16-9, is conducting drills today and Tuesday in preparation for Wednesday's opening game against Chicago which was postponed from today.

Yastrzemski Pessimistic About Red Sox Chances

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — A year ago Carl Yastrzemski drew polite smiles of friendly laughter when he predicted the Boston Red Sox would win the American League baseball pennant as 100-1 longshots

Now the Triple Crown winner smiles politely in refusing to make any predictions on the 1968 flag chase.

"You just can't make any predictions on how we'll do at this time," Yaz said while waiting for his turn in the batting cage Sunday during a workout at Fenway Park.

"Last year I knew for sure the talent was there," he said. "We had (Tony) Conigliaro and Jim Lonborg healthy and ready at the start. Now things look bad for Tony, and Lonborg may miss the first month.

"We have too many ifs to make a sound prediction—but I'll guarantee that we'll be shooting for it all again."

Yastrzemski, who hit .326 with 44 homers and 121 runs batted in en route to the AL's Most Valuable Player award last season, pronounced himself fit for the start of the 1968 campaign.

Conigliaro suffered a cracked left cheekbone and a serious eye injury when struck by a fast ball thrown by California's Jack Hamilton last Aug. 18.

Lonborg's left knee was injured in a skiing accident Dec. 23.

Cleveland To Open Wednesday In Chicago

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Cleveland Indians' opener in Chicago was postponed Sunday because of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s funeral, giving the Tribe an unexpected day or two of vacation here.

The game now is scheduled for Wednesday at Chicago, instead of Tuesday.

Although Sunday was an official day of mourning for Dr. King, the Indians played and lost 5 - 1 an exhibition game against the Los Angeles Dodgers in San Diego. The Tribe's general manager, Gabe Paul, had considered canceling the game, but after consulting Cleveland Mayor Carl B. Stokes went ahead with it.

The Indians finished with an unimpressive exhibition season record of 12 victories and 17 losses. In the finale their only run off Don Drysdale was a homer by Duke Sims in the fourth inning.

L.A. Wants To Open Tuesday Night

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Philadelphia Phillies were caught in a rundown between Walter O'Malley and Warren Giles today as the Los Angeles Dodgers considered opening the 1968 baseball season all by themselves.

Los Angeles owner O'Malley was to decide today whether or not to go ahead with Tuesday night's scheduled home opener against Philadelphia—a game the Phillies have refused to play.

The Dodgers were left holding the ball Sunday when the St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago White Sox pushed back their Tuesday openers one day, joining seven other major league clubs which had postponed opening home games in deference to the memory of Dr. Martin Luther King.

Funeral services for the slain civil rights leader will be held Tuesday in Atlanta.

National League President Giles left it up to the Dodgers, as the home club, to decide whether to go through with their game.

John Quinn, the Phillies' general manager, said earlier his club would not take the field at Los Angeles Tuesday night, at the risk of a possible forfeit and fine—because of the King funeral that afternoon.

The other opening games in each league, including the presidential fixture at Washington, all were set for Wednesday.

President Johnson was expected to miss the Senators' debut against the Minnesota Twins—one of five afternoon openers in the American League. The White Sox entertain Cleveland, Boston's defending champions are at Detroit, the new Oakland Athletics at Baltimore and California at New York in other AL inaugurals.

The Chicago Cubs visit Cincinnati and the New York Mets are at San Francisco in National League afternoon games. Pittsburgh is at Houston and Atlanta at St. Louis under the lights.

While O'Malley and Bavasi pondered the possibility of opening the season without an opponent, LA Manager Walter Alston checked into an Inglewood, Calif., hospital Sunday for treatment of a kidney stone and the Dodgers whipped Cleveland 5-1 in the lone exhibition finale.

All the other exhibition games were canceled in line with the designation of Sunday as a day of mourning for Dr. King.

A Dodgers team physician said Alston, beginning his 15th season as dean of major league managers, has a stone in the right kidney. "As soon as it passes we'll let him go," said Dr. Robert Woods. He said doctors might use a tube to remove the stone if it had not passed today.

GALLUP, N.M. (AP) — The championship of the women's AAU basketball tournament resembled a rerun of an old movie on late night television.

The participants were the same and the results were the same.

Nashville, Tenn., carried off its seventh straight AAU trophy Saturday with a convincing 56-43 victory over Raytown, Mo., the same team it defeated in the 1967 finals, also at Gallup.

Masters Week Delayed By Greensboro Open

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP — The Augusta National golf course opens today for Masters Tournament Week but few golfers are expected to be on hand.

The traditional opening of the course for the Masters was delayed one day because of the nationwide memorial services for Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Many golfers who will play in the Masters, which begins Thursday, are competing in the Greater Greensboro Open Tournament in Greensboro, N.C. The final 36 holes of the tournament were postponed until today by a rainout and services for Dr. King.

Jack Nicklaus, picked as the man to beat in the Masters, isn't expected until Tuesday. Nicklaus, winner in 1963, 1965 and 1966, failed to make the cut last year and has been working hard on his game to try to wipe out the memory of this embarrassment.

Gay Brewer will defend the title he won in a last round duel with Bobby Nichols, and the ever-dangerous Arnold Palmer, only four-time winner, is ranked high among the challengers.

Others expected to be among the leaders are Gary Player, 1961 champion; the ever-hopeful Billy Casper, whose game appears strong after a trip to Vietnam to entertain troops, and Doug Sanders, who is aiming for the big ones this year.

The 79-man field includes 53 American pros, 17 foreign pros, 7 American amateurs and 2 foreign amateurs.

Portions of the last two rounds will be televised nationally by CBS.

Greensboro Ends Today

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — A rarity on the professional golf tour, a 36-hole day, brings the twice-delayed $137,500 Greater Greensboro Open Tournament to a belated conclusion today.

Billy Casper, never out of the lead since play began last Thursday, held a two-stroke margin over Bobby Nichols with a 36-hole score of 132, one shot over the record for the tournament, and 10 under par.

Gene Littler and Don January were tied for third place at 135.

Today's endurance contest was set up when Sunday's scheduled two rounds were postponed because of the national day of mourning for the slain Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King.

Play previously was set back a day by the washout of Friday's second round. The double postponement delays the 250-mile trek to Augusta, Ga. and the Masters championship opening Thursday.

Montreal Leads Boston

Hockey Games Postponed Until Tomorrow Night

By The Associated Press

An unscheduled respite has given six National Hockey League playoff contenders more time to brace themselves for the next collision.

Meanwhile, Boston's dazed Bruins, whose first postseason trip in nine years has been on schedule but off course, spent a regular day off trying to put themselves back together again for another shot at the high-flying Montreal Canadiens.

Three first-round games in the expanded Stanley Cup playoffs have been rescheduled in the aftermath of the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King.

The second game of the New York Rangers-Chicago Black Hawks series, originally set for Sunday in New York, was moved back to Tuesday night. The Rangers put off the game, which was to have been nationally televised, after Sunday was designated as a day of national mourning for the slain civil rights leader.

Third games of the Philadelphia Flyers-St. Louis Blues and Los Angeles Kings-Minnesota North Stars sets were moved back from Monday night. The Kings, who lead Minnesota 2-0 in their best-of-7 series, visit the North Stars Tuesday night. The Flyers visit St. Louis Wednesday night to resume a series deadlocked at one victory apiece.

The Canadiens, who have trimmed Boston twice on home ice, travel to the Bruins' lair Tuesday night for the third game.

Texan Heavyweight Wins AAU Boxing At Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A big Texan named George Foreman came storming out of a record field of 280 to win the heavyweight division title Saturday night in the National AAU Boxing Tournament.

Foreman, who only has two months' ring experience, scored three consecutive technical knockouts en route to the title and one of 11 berths up for grabs for the Olympic trials. Foreman hails from Houston.

Bazer, a high school senior, was making his second appearance in the nationals when he turned back Miller, of Prairie View, Mont.

In the heavyweight division, the 6-foot-3 Foreman, who tips the scales at 218 pounds, scored a unanimous decision over Henry Crump of Philadelphia, Pa., to clinch the title.

Returning to claim his third straight 132-pound championship was Ronnie Harris, a pre-med student from Canton, Ohio. Harris, a Golden Gloves titlist, won a split decision over Juan Ruiz, 18, a high school student from Brooklyn, N.Y., for the title.

Bobby Unser Wins Phoenix 150 Race

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Bobby Unser, Albuquerque, N.M., sped through a flaming pileup to capture the Jimmy Bryan 150-mile U.S. Auto Club race at Phoenix International Raceway.

Unser, driving a turbo-charged, rear-engine Offenhauser, averaged just over 100 miles per hour to win the Sunday race, after setting a one-lap qualifying record of 124.059 victory in a row.

Unser took the lead from Roger McCluskey of Tucson, whose car was one of four put out of action in a flaming crash on the 48th lap in which Johnny Rutherford, Fort Worth, Tex., was burned.

The accident was touched off when Al Unser, the winner's brother, had the engine of his car blow up, throwing oil across the track. Bobby Unser narrowly avoided the resulting pileup.

McCluskey, Rutherford and Mario Andretti, Nazareth, Pa., skidded on the slippery surface and crashed into the upper wall, with the Rutherford and Andretti machines bursting into flames.

Rutherford, who suffered burned feet and a burned right hand, was saved from further injury by A. J. Foyt, defending USAC champ who rushed to Rutherford's burning car and pulled him from the cockpit.

Rutherford's injuries were not believed serious.

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE, Calif. (AP)—"Spider" Sabich of the University of California won the men's slalom World's Cup race at Heavenly Valley Sunday, posting a combined time for two runs of 105.93 seconds—nearly two seconds ahead of France's Jean Claude Killy.

Drives To Victory

Wins Championship

Colonels Give Up On Unseld

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Colonels of the American Basketball Association have called off their campaign to sign two-time All-American Westley Unseld and have withdrawn their $500,000 contract offer.

The Colonels had been competing for Unseld's services with the National Basketball Association's Baltimore Bullets.

The signing campaign staged by Kentucky had reached the point where a half-million dollar four-year contract offer was made to the University of Louisville star—and full-page newspaper ads had been taken out urging him to sign.

But it all came to an end Saturday night.

Unseld replied that he would rather play for Baltimore.

At that point, the year-old Kentucky organization gave in and issued a statement withdrawing the contract offer.

Hicksville Duo Takes 1st In Bowling

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Only two changes were noted in the standings after the sixth weekend Sunday in the 64th annual Ohio State Men's Bowling Tournament. But one was a big one.

Gerald Sanders and Ralph Tuttle of Hicksville took over first place in the doubles handicap with a 1,338. They replaced two teams previously tied for first, Dennis Smith and Ernie Kovach of Lakewood and Lloyd Warner and Carl Schmidt of Plain City, each with a 1,329 score.

Ed Rodosky and John Nash moved into fourth place in the doubles handicap for the only other change. They rolled a 1,314.

There will be no bowling next weekend in observance of Easter. The tournament ends in May.

Kinsman, O. Team Places In Bowling

CINCINNATI (AP)—Utilizing a 1,009 final game, a makeup team from Kinsman, Ohio, fired a 2,687 series to take 10th place in the Booster Division of the American Bowling Congress tourney Sunday.

Kinsman Lanes No. 2, composed of five men who had never bowled in the ABC, started quietly with games of 875 and 803 before unleashing the big finale.

Charles Kohta led the final game with 237, Jim Davidson had 222, Gerald Mott 199, Jerry Langley 178 and Russell Lauer 173. Kohta topped the team with a 588 series.

Powell's Restaurant of Frankfort, Ky., with 2,768 it shot Feb. 27, continues to dominate the division for teams averaging 850 or less.

Two Canton Women Set AAU Track Records

CHICAGO (AP)—Five American records were set Saturday in the Women's Junior AAU Track and Field Championships at the University of Chicago.

The Mayor Daley Youth Foundation took top team honors with 27 points and Canton, Ohio, finished second with 23. The Detroit Track Club was third with 14 points.

The Illini Track Club finished with 13 points followed by St. Louis with 10 and San Diego with 8.

Records set included the basketball throw by Mary Boron of Canton, Ohio, with a heave of 113 feet 8¼ inches. Donna Simpson of Chicago ran the 880 in 2:23.1, and Nancy Shafer of Canton established a record in the 440 with the time of :57.5.

Brandys Play Defeated At Waterford

Brandys Play's winning streak of 11 races came to a halt Saturday at Waterford Park to the surprise of 7,252 fans.

A six-year-old horse by the name of Shushan turned the trick in the East Liverpool Purse which headlined the Waterford card. Friendly People finished third in the six horse race.

The defeat of the Maryland-bred horse which turned five on January 1 and which is owned by the North View Farm of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Calig of Pittsburgh, stunned the crowd. He was looked upon as unbeatable after winning his first start of 1968 last week in a convincing manner.

Even in defeat Brandys Play looked good. He did not get off well from the starting gate, being in fourth position behind Princess Parade, Shushan and Friendly People for the first quarter of a mile. Then he ran into more trouble on the back turn. In the stretch he loosed himself from the traffic jam and took dead aim on the flying Shushan.

Down the stretch he narrowed the gap each stride, but the advantage Shushan held coming into the stretch paid off, and at the finish he was home a winner by two lengths.

Matson, Mills Pace Field At Texas Relays

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Relays, in which Texas led the university division and Southern topped the college class, didn't produce as many outstanding individuals as usual. But still there were some mighty bright Olympic prospects.

A couple of them already had appeared in the Olympic Games —Randy Matson, the Texas A&M giant who holds the world's record in the shot put at 71 feet 5½ inches and was second in the 1964 games at Tokyo, and Billy Mills, former Kansas star who won the 10,000 meters.

Matson, who has been resting up from the winter track wars, admitted he wasn't ready to try for a record and that 66 feet would suit him fh the Texas Relays. He did better than that, heaving the 16-pound ball 66 feet 5½ inches in an exhibition.

Mills won a six-mile race in 28:53.3. That delighted him that he could make such good time this early. He seemed ready to go to the Olympics at Mexico City in October.

Open Tennis Planning 4 Tournaments

DALLAS (AP) — The U.S. Lawn Tennis Association is ready to receive bids for four open tournaments, including the National Open.

The association, meeting in Dallas over the weekend, agreed to go along with recommendation made earlier this month by the International Lawn Tennis Federation that major tennis nations hold only four open events this year. Professionals will compete against amateurs.

Masters Week Delayed By Greensboro Open

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP — The Augusta National golf course opens today for Masters Tournament Week but few golfers are expected to be on hand.

The traditional opening of the course for the Masters was delayed one day because of the nationwide memorial services for Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Many golfers who will play in the Masters, which begins Thursday, are competing in the Greater Greensboro Open Tournament in Greensboro, N.C. The final 36 holes of the tournament were postponed until today by a rainout and services for Dr. King.

Jack Nicklaus, picked as the man to beat in the Masters, isn't expected until Tuesday. Nicklaus, winner in 1963, 1965 and 1966, failed to make the cut last year and has been working hard on his game to try to wipe out the memory of this embarrassment.

Gay Brewer will defend the title he won in a last round duel with Bobby Nichols, and the ever-dangerous Arnold Palmer, only four-time winner, is ranked high among the challengers.

Others expected to be among the leaders are Gary Player, 1961 champion; the ever-hopeful Billy Casper, whose game appears strong after a trip to Vietnam to entertain troops, and Doug Sanders, who is aiming for the big ones this year.

The 79-man field includes 53 American pros, 17 foreign pros, 7 American amateurs and 2 foreign amateurs.

Portions of the last two rounds will be televised nationally by CBS.

Greensboro Ends Today

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — A rarity on the professional golf tour, a 36-hole day, brings the twice-delayed $137,500 Greater Greensboro Open Tournament to a belated conclusion today.

Billy Casper, never out of the lead since play began last Thursday, held a two-stroke margin over Bobby Nichols with a 36-hole score of 132, one shot over the record for the tournament, and 10 under par.

Gene Littler and Don January were tied for third place at 135.

Today's endurance contest was set up when Sunday's scheduled two rounds were postponed because of the national day of mourning for the slain Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King.

Play previously was set back a day by the washout of Friday's second round. The double postponement delays the 250-mile trek to Augusta, Ga. and the Masters championship opening Thursday.

Hockey Games Postponed Until Tomorrow Night

By The Associated Press

An unscheduled respite has given six National Hockey League playoff contenders more time to brace themselves for the next collision.

Meanwhile, Boston's dazed Bruins, whose first postseason trip in nine years has been on schedule but off course, spent a regular day off trying to put themselves back together again for another shot at the high-flying Montreal Canadiens.

Three first-round games in the expanded Stanley Cup playoffs have been reschduled in the aftermath of the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King.

The second game of the New York Rangers-Chicago Black Hawks series, originally set for Sunday in New York, was moved back to Tuesday night. The Rangers put off the game, which was to have been nationally televised, after Sunday was designated as a day of national mourning for the slain civil rights leader.

Third games of the Philadelphia Flyers-St. Louis Blues and Los Angeles Kings-Minnesota North Stars sets were moved back from Monday night. The Kings, who lead Minnesota 2-0 in their best-of-7 series, visit the North Stars Tuesday night. The Flyers visit St. Louis Wednesday night to resume a series deadlocked at one victory apiece.

The Canadiens, who have trimmed Boston twice on home ice, travel to the Bruins'' lair Tuesday night for the third game.

Texan Heavyweight Wins AAU Boxing At Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A big Texan named George Foreman came storming out of a record field of 280 to win the heavyweight division title Saturday night in the National AAU Boxing Tournament.

Foreman, who only has two months' ring experience, scored three consecutive technical knockouts en route to the title and one of 11 berths up for grabs for the Olympic trials. Foreman hails from Houston.

In a major upset in Saturday night's finals, Kenny Bazer of New Iberlia, La., leaned heavily on a punishing right hand to defeat Roland Miller, defending champion in the 112-pound division.

Bazer, a high school senior, was making his second appearance in the nationals when he turned back Miller, of Prairie View, Mont.

In the heavyweight division, the 6-foot-3 Foreman, who tips the scales at 218 pounds, scored a unanimous decision over Henry Crump of Philadelphia, Pa., to clinch the title.

Returning to claim his third straight 132-pound championship was Ronnie Harris, a pre-med student from Canton, Ohio. Harris, a Golden Gloves titlist, won a split decision over Juan Ruiz, 18, a high school student from Brooklyn, N.Y., for the title.

Bobby Unser Wins Phoenix 150 Race

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Bobby Unser, Albuquerque, N.M., sped through a flaming pileup to capture the Jimmy Bryan 150-mile U.S. Auto Club race at Phoenix International Raceway.

Unser, driving a turbo-charged, rear-engine Offenhauser, averaged just over 100 miles per hour to win the Sunday race, after setting a one-lap qualifying record of 124.059 victory in a row.

Unser took the lead from Roger McCluskey of Tucson, whose car was one of four put out of action in a flaming crash on the 46th lap in which Johnny Rutherford, Fort Worth, Tex., was burned.

The accident was touched off when Al Unser, the winner's brother, had the engine of his car blow up, throwing oil across the track. Bobby Unser narrowly avoided the resulting pileup.

McCluskey, Rutherford and Mario Andretti, Nazareth, Pa., skidded on the slippery surface and crashed into the upper wall, with the Rutherford and Andretti machines bursting into flames.

Rutherford, who suffered burned feet and a burned right hand, was saved from further injury by A. J. Foyt, defending USAC champ who rushed to Rutherford's burning car and pulled him from the cockpit.

Rutherford's injuries were not believed serious.

Wins Slalom Race

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE, Calif. (AP)—"Spider" Sabich of the University of California won the men's slalom World's Cup race at Heavenly Valley Sunday, posting a combined time for two runs of 105.93 seconds—nearly two seconds ahead of France's Jean Claude Killy.

Drives To Victory

BRANDS HATCH, England (AP)—Jackie Ickx of Belgium and Britain's Brian Redman, averaging 95.96 miles an hour, drove a Ford GT40 to victory Sunday in the BOAC 50-mile international sports car race.

The Mountains of the Moon are the not yet fully explored Ruwenzori Mountains in Africa, so-named by ancient Romans.

A PAIR OF 600 series turned up in the Terrace Junior Bowlers League recently. Terry Boyd (left) fired an even 600 and Earl Jackson totaled 631.

Colonels Give Up On Unseld

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Colonels of the American Basketball Association have called off their campaign to sign two-time All-American Westley Unseld and have withdrawn their $500,000 contract offer.

The Colonels had been competing for Unseld's services with the National Basketball Association's Baltimore Bullets.

The signing campaign staged by Kentucky had reached the point where a half-million dollar four-year contract offer was made to the University of Louisville star—and full-page newspaper ads had been taken out urging him to sign.

But it all came to an end Saturday night.

Unseld replied that he would rather play for Baltimore.

At that point, the year-old Kentucky organization gave in and issued a statement withdrawing the contract offer.

Hicksville Duo Takes 1st In Bowling

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Only two changes were noted in the standings after the sixth weekend Sunday in the 64th annual Ohio State Men's Bowling Tournament. But one was a big one.

Gerald Sanders and Ralph Tuttle of Hicksville took over first place in the doubles handicap with a 1,338. They replaced two teams previously tied for first, Dennis Smith and Ernie Kovach of Lakewood and Lloyd Warner and Carl Schmidt of Plain City, each with a 1,329 score.

Ed Rodosky and John Nash moved into fourth place in the doubles handicap for the only other change. They rolled a 1,314.

There will be no bowling next weekend in observance of Easter. The tournament ends in May.

Kinsman, O. Team Places In Bowling

CINCINNATI (AP)—Utilizing a 1,009 final game, a makeup team from Kinsman, Ohio, fired a 2,687 series to take 10th place in the Booster Division of the American Bowling Congress tourney Sunday.

Kinsman Lanes No. 2, composed of five men who had never bowled in the ABC, started quietly with games of 875 and 803 before unleashing the big finale.

Charles Kohta led the final game with 237, Jim Davidson had 222, Gerald Mott 199, Jerry Langley 178 and Russell Lauer 173. Kohta topped the team with a 588 series.

Powell's Restaurant of Frankfort, Ky., with 2,768 it shot Feb. 27, continues to dominate the division for teams averaging 850 or less.

Two Canton Women Set AAU Track Records

CHICAGO (AP)—Five American records were set Saturday in the Women's Junior AAU Track and Field Championships at the University of Chicago.

The Mayor Daley Youth Foundation took top team honors with 27 points and Canton, Ohio, finished second with 23. The Detroit Track Club was third with 14 points.

The Illini Track Club finished with 13 points followed by St. Louis with 10 and San Diego with 8.

Records set included the basketball throw by Mary Boron of Canton, Ohio, with a heave of 113 feet 8¼ inches. Donna Simpson of Chicago ran the 880 in 2:23.1, and Nancy Shafer of Canton established a record in the 440 with the time of :57.5.

Brandys Play Defeated At Waterford

Brandys Play's winning streak of 11 races came to a halt Saturday at Waterford Park to the surprise of 7,252 fans.

A six-year-old horse by the name of Shushan turned the trick in the East Liverpool Purse which headlined the Waterford card. Friendly People finished third in the six horse race.

The defeat of the Maryland-bred horse which turned five on January 1 and which is owned by the North View Farm of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Calig of Pittsburgh, stunned the crowd. He was looked upon as unbeatable after winning his first start of 1968 last week in a convincing manner.

Even in defeat Brandys Play looked good. He did not get off well from the starting gate, being in fourth position behind Princess Parade, Shushan and Friendly People for the first quarter of a mile. Then he ran into more trouble on the back turn. In the stretch he loosed himself from the traffic jam and took dead aim on the flying Shushan.

Down the stretch he narrowed the gap each stride, but the advantage Shushan held coming into the stretch paid off, and at the finish he was home a winner by two lengths.

Matson, Mills Pace Field At Texas Relays

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Relays, in which Texas led the university division and Southern topped the college class, didn't produce as many outstanding individuals as usual. But still there were some mighty bright Olympic prospects.

A couple of them already had appeared in the Olympic Games —Randy Matson, the Texas A&M giant who holds the world's record in the shot put at 71 feet 5½ inches and was second in the 1964 games at Tokyo, and Billy Mills, former Kansas star who won the 10,000 meters.

Matson, who has been resting up from the winter track wars, admitted he wasn't ready to try for a record and that 66 feet would suit him fn the Texas Relays. He did better than that, heaving the 16-pound ball 66 feet 5½ inches in an exhibition.

Mills won a six-mile race in 28:53.3. That delighted him that he could make such good time this early. He seemed ready to go to the Olympics at Mexico City in October.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford sees at least a 50-50 chance that George C. Wallace' candidacy could throw November's presidential election into the House of Representatives.

Ford, interviewed Sunday on ABC's "Issues and Answers," said there is a distinct probability Wallace could get enough electoral votes to prevent a majority of 279 for either of the major party candidates.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, joined by a crowd of some 50 persons, picked his way through smouldering rubble and broken glass Sunday in a violence-torn section of Washington.

At one point a squad of federal troops pulled on gas masks and lined up across a street when they saw the approaching crowd but a squad car dashed ahead to tell them who was coming.

"If any good comes out of the events of the last several days," the New York Democrat told black parishioners in a church before the tour, "it's that we have learned a lesson we should have learned a long time ago: the need for justice toward our fellow human beings.

"Violence," he said, "must end."

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. apparently is the first Negro to be honored by a presidential order that American flags be flown at half staff, according to White House research.

The Republican Coordinating Committee has called for high priority efforts on "eliminating the educational deficit in the cities," where the poor are concentrated. A committee report says cities spend about two-thirds as much per pupil as do adjoining suburbs.

Nazi Police Given Terms For Killings

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — A Hamburg court sentenced five members of a former Nazi police battalion today to prison terms ranging up to eight years for aiding in the murder of 25,000 Polish Jews during 1942-43.

Six other defendants were found guilty of aiding in the killings but were not sentenced because they were subordinates acting under orders.

Eight-year prison terms were given to two former police chief commissioners, Wolfgang Hoffmann, 51, and Julius Wohlauf, 55, and to a 58-year-old salesman, Kurt Dreyer. Former police commissioner Anton Becker, 58, was sentenced to six years and a sign painter, Heinrich Becker, 53, got five years.

They were charged with aiding in the murder of Jews in the Lublin district of Poland. After a five-month trial, the court found Hoffmann guilty in 1,810 cases, Wohlauf in 9,200, Dreyer in 1,907, Anton Becker in 1,807 and Heinrich Becker in 1,828.

Catholic Teachers Get Boost In Salary

CLEVELAND (AP) — Four months of negotiations, marked by a brief walkout in February, resulted in a new salary schedule which lay teachers in 13 Cleveland Catholic Diocese high schools accepted Sunday.

The new schedule, affecting 180 teachers, boosts starting pay by $1,000 to $5,800 for teachers with a bachelor's degree. The maximum annual salary, which had been $7,500, was raised to $9,960 after 12 years for teachers holding master's degrees.

The Cleveland High School and Academy Lay Teachers Association had been offered 90 per cent of public school salary averages. The final agreement was a compromise which left starting pay $450 under the Cleveland public school figure.

Strike Halts Bus System

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Lake Shore Bus System, which operates between Columbus and several Ohio cities, was shut down today because of a strike by 75 drivers and maintenance men.

Lake Shore President R. S. Thomasson said the company will not try to operate during the strike by Local 1159, Amalgamated Transit Union.

The union members went on strike Sunday night in a demand for a pay increase of 25 cents an hour and better working conditions. They presently are paid $2.46 an hour. No negotiations are scheduled.

The company makes daily runs between Columbus and these cities: Chillicothe, Lancaster, Athens, Pomeroy, Newark, Lima, Bellefontaine, Zanesville, Cambridge and Steubenville. It also goes as far as Wheeling, W. Va., and Pittsburgh, Pa.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

New Use For Nylon Net

Dear Heloise: Here's an unusual use for that wonderful nylon net for the gals who wear pierced earrings.

Heloise

Take an embroidery hoop and put two thicknesses of nylon net between the hoops (as though you were going to embroider), trim the net close to the hoop. No holes to make no fray whatsoever.

Just push the earring post through the net and catch it with those hard-to-find ends. (Saves misplacing them, too.)

It's easy to pick the pair you want in a hurry.

Use net the color of your bed room and keep it on your dressing table.

MRS. M.

Dear Heloise: I've just found the most wonderful way to store leftovers so I don't forget they're in the refrigerator!

You know those little opaque plastic cartons they sell cottage cheese in?

I cut a great big round hole (about as big as the top of a teacup) in the lid so there's not much left of it except about a one-inch margin around the rim.

I put leftover vegetables or what have you in the carton.

Then, I cut out a piece of plastic wrap big enough to stretch clear across the top of the container and press the lid down over it.

It stretches the plastic wrap airtight and I can see right through it, just as clear as glass, to see what and how much is in there. The inch margin is sturdy enough to allow for stacking the cartons.

MARION NORBY

Dear Folks: Please do as I say and not as I did.

When sewing jersey or any stretch material, don't just run it through your sewing machine like you're sewing on ordinary material. I just made that mistake. When you wear the garment, every seam pops loose!

I learned — the hard way — to pull the jersey toward me so it will stretch a little while it's under the needle.

Another little thing about jersey is when you are pressing open the seams, don't use a silicone ironing board cover! Causes a shine. Lay a bath towel down, then press.

The second most important part is do NOT lay a steam iron directly on the material. If you will hold it gently above the material, allowing no pressure whatsoever, you won't even get a bit of shine.

HELOISE

Dear Heloise: Instead of baskets for my children at Easter time, I buy toy sand buckets (with shovels), decorate and fill them with grass as usual.

The children really love them and they outlast the straw baskets. After Easter they can play with them in the sand box.

MRS. ANNA STAKEM

-:-

Great idea, Anna.

HELOISE

Dear Heloise: When I make cheese sauce for vegetables such as asparagus, or cauliflower, I use some liquid from the vegetable instead of milk.

Delicious and nutritious. Saves a little on the milk bill, too, and gives quite a different taste.

AMELIA WALSTON

Dear Heloise: I make everyday pillowcases from the skirts of discarded or outgrown dresses.

These pillowcases cost nothing and take only a few minutes to make. Saves us a dollar ever so often.

The family likes the bright colors and no one seems to care if they don't match our sheets.

MOLLY

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

Child's Hearing Problem Hard To Detect

Many a child who does poorly in school is thought to be mentally retarded or of low intelligence when the cause of the trouble is not in the brain but is poor vision or hearing. Testing for these defects however, should never be deferred until the child has started school. Last week I briefly discussed a common visual defect. Defective hearing is even harder to detect than poor vision but new techniques are making it possible to test the hearing in early infancy. This is done by observing the brain waves in an electroencephaloram as sounds are delivered to each of the child's ears separately through ear phones.

Dr. Brandstadt

A MOTHER should suspect that her child does not hear normally if he fails to say recognizable words by the age of 18 months; if he is not startled by a sudden loud noise; if he cannot be soothed by hearing his mother's voice without seeing her; or if he prefers to play quietly by himself.

—:—

AS SOON as there is the slightest suspicion of defective hearing your child should be examined by a physician and if his hearing is found to be subnormal he should be placed under expert care. The earlier corrective measures are started the better the results will be.

Q — Can a child catch any type of worms from playing with dogs or cats?

A—Although the belief that pets spread intestinal worms to people is common, there is no evidence that they do and much evidence that they do not. The benefits that a child will derive from caring for a live dog or cat far outweigh the remote hazard of his catching a disease from the pet.

Q—My daughter, 3, loves to tear up newspapers and put the scraps in her mouth. Would the print on the papers harm her? Could she choke on the paper?

A—An infant will put anything in her mouth that she can reach. This is her way of learning. Most children, finding newspaper not very appetizing, quickly turn their attention to other fare. Newspaper is made from wood pulp and the ink from lamp black with a solvent that has evaporated before your daughter gets around to chewing it. So the paper is not apt to make her sick.

She would be no more likely to choke on the paper than on anything else she puts in her mouth.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

500 Students To Be Guests At Kent 'Day'

KENT (Special) — Kent State University's branches and centers throughout northeastern Ohio wil play a key role in the 55th annual campus Day next month.

More than 500 Kent students from Ashtabula to New Philadelphia and Elyria to East Liverpool will be special guests for the oldest and largest student celebration, set this year for Saturday, May 11.

They will be among some 15,000 expected for the day-long event which features everything from a queen crowning and float parade to songfest competition and a concert.

Each of the branches and centers will be represented in the parade and the major events by their own queen.

Groups of visiting students will use the larger residence halls for their home away from home that day.

They have access to a large block of tickets for the concert featuring singer Tony Bennett, comedian Jack E. Leonard and drummer Buddy Rich.

All students will join in the mid - day barbecue and eat their dinner in the residence halls.

This year's Campus Day marks a return to the original idea of Kent's first president, John McGilvrey, in 1914 when he invited extension students from 25 northeastern Ohio communities to campus for a spring celebration.

Workers Still Looking For Blast Victims

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP) — Weary searchers continue today tugging at the wreckage of buildings shattered by an explosion which struck the business area as shoppers crowded streets and shops.

Thirty-nine bodies had been recovered and 33 other persons were reported missing.

Fire followed the Saturday explosion in this eastern Indiana city and spread to adjacent buildings. Three buildings were destroyed and five damaged severely in a two-block area. Windows were shattered for blocks around.

More than 100 persons were injured. Eighteen remained in hospitals today, three in critical condition.

State police said the blast erupted in the basement of Marting Arms Co., a sporting goods store where gunpowder was stored for hunters and skeet shooters. Richmond Fire Marshal Fred Klotz said a large shipment of gunpowder reportedly was delivered to the store recently.

FBI agents said they were investigating the possibility of a gas leak as a factor in the explosion.

Rep. Bolton Held Hostage By Students

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Rep. Frances P. Bolton, R-Ohio, said she "never was really frightened" during 16 hours in which she and 11 other Tuskegee Institute trustees were held hostage by a group of angry Negro students at the Albama school.

The 83-year-old legislator, who is seeking re-election, returned to the Capital Sunday, following her release about 2 a.m., when the National Guard and state troopers approached the campus.

Mrs. Bolton said the students allowed her out to attend the dedication of a nursing center and to get some sandwiches then drove her back "to my temporary prison." She said they "were very polite."

The trustees were meeting Saturday morning in the Tuskegee guest house, Dorothy Hall, when the students padlocked the doors, chaining them shut. The students had a set of demands about ROTC training, visiting hours and other school administrative matters.

"Nobody actually talked about Dr. King," Mrs. Bolton said in an interview. "But we all knew that was behind it. Then, too, kids have a habit of feeling their oats in the spring and that helped . . .

"I had a certain faith and understanding of it all along and knew it would work out.

"I'm looking forward to my next visit to Tuskegee because I love those kids and I love that place . . ."

Canada Sees New Rivalry In Elections

OTTAWA (AP) — The Liberal party's choice of Pierre Elliott Trudeau as Canada's next prime minister has set the stage for a confrontation with the new Conservative leader, Robert Stanfield, in a national election later this year.

It will be a test of strength between two new personalities who are expected to give Canadian politics its biggest shot in the arm since John Diefenbaker and Lester B. Pearson began their rivalry a decade ago.

Both Trudeau and Stanfield are newcomers to the national political scene and are anxious to seek a mandate from the public which will bring an end to minority government under which Pearson has ruled for the past five years.

Trudeau was elected Liberal leader Saturday night on the fourth ballot after a coalition of middle-of-the-road and right-wing rivals failed to head off the youth-supported Trudeau bandwagon.

As leader of the ruling party, the 46-year-old Quebec Trudeau becomes prime minister when Pearson retires two weeks from now at the age of 70.

It was generally believed that Trudeau's policies will follow those of Pearson. He told a news conference, however, that there should be a thorough reassessment of Canada's foreign policy with a boost in foreign aid expenditures.

Easter may fall any time within a 35 - day period running from March 22 to April 25.

Democrat Chairmen Favor John Gilligan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — County chairmen who met here Saturday favor John J. Gilligan in his bid to unseat Sen. Frank J. Lausche, says a top Democrat Party official.

Fifty six of the state's 88 county chairmen met for a campaign briefing and "if anyone favored Lausche they didn't say so," said Eugene P. O'Grady, executive director of state Democratic headquarters.

Sen. Frank Lausche Given Endorsement

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The Dayton Daily News in its Sunday editions endorsed Democratic Sen. Frank J. Lausche in his bid for renomination over his challenger, former Congressman John J. Gilligan.

The newspaper said Lausche, for the most part, has voted in the Democratic mainstream on civil rights and has supported the administration's foreign policy consistently. However, it praised Gilligan's "impressive record as a congressman."

HINTS FROM HELOISE

New Use For Nylon Net

Dear Heloise: Here's an unusual use for that wonderful nylon net for the gals who wear pierced earrings.

Heloise

Take an embroidery hoop and put two thicknesses of nylon net between the hoops (as though you were going to embroider), trim the net close to the hoop. No holes to make no fray whatsoever.

Just push the earring post through the net and catch it with those hard-to-find ends. (Saves misplacing them, too.)

It's easy to pick the pair you want in a hurry.

Use net the color of your bed room and keep it on your dressing table.

MRS. M.

Dear Heloise: I've just found the most wonderful way to store leftovers so I don't forget they're in the refrigerator!

You know those little opaque plastic cartons they sell cottage cheese in?

I cut a great big round hole (about as big as the top of a teacup) in the lid so there's not much left of it except about a one-inch margin around the rim.

I put leftover vegetables or what have you in the carton.

Then, I cut out a piece of plastic wrap big enough to stretch clear across the top of the container and press the lid down over it.

It stretches the plastic wrap airtight and I can see right through it, just as clear as glass, to see what and how much is in there. The inch margin is sturdy enough to allow for stacking the cartons.

MARION NORBY

Dear Folks: Please do as I say and not as I did.

When sewing jersey or any stretch material, don't just run it through your sewing machine like you're sewing on ordinary material. I just made that mistake. When you wear the garment, every seam pops loose!

I learned — the hard way — to pull the jersey toward me so it will stretch a little while it's under the needle.

Another little thing about jersey is when you are pressing open the seams, don't use a silicone ironing board cover! Causes a shine. Lay a bath towel down, then press.

The second most important part is do NOT lay a steam iron directly on the material. If you will hold it gently above the material, allowing no pressure whatsoever, you won't even get a bit of shine.

HELOISE

Dear Heloise: Instead of baskets for my children at Easter time, I buy toy sand buckets (with shovels), decorate and fill them with grass as usual.

The children really love them and they outlast the straw baskets. After Easter they can play with them in the sand box.

-:-

Great idea, Anna.

HELOISE

Dear Heloise: When I make cheese sauce for vegetables such as asparagus, or cauliflower, I use some liquid from the vegetable instead of milk.

Delicious and nutritious. Saves a little on the milk bill, too, and gives quite a different taste.

AMELIA WALSTON

Dear Heloise: I make everyday pillowcases from the skirts of discarded or outgrown dresses.

These pillowcases cost nothing and take only a few minutes to make. Saves us a dollar ever so often.

The family likes the bright colors and no one seems to care if they don't match our sheets.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

Child's Hearing Problem Hard To Detect

Many a child who does poorly in school is thought to be mentally retarded or of low intelligence when the cause of the trouble is not in the brain but is poor vision or hearing. Testing for these defects however, should never be deferred until the child has started school. Last week I briefly discussed a common visual defect. Defective hearing is even harder to detect than poor vision but new techniques are making it possible to test the hearing in early infancy. This is done by observing the brain waves in an electroencephaloram as sounds are delivered to each of the child's ears separately through ear phones.

A MOTHER should suspect that her child does not hear normally if he fails to say recognizable words by the age of 18 months; if he is not startled by a sudden loud noise; if he cannot be soothed by hearing his mother's voice without seeing her; or if he prefers to play quietly by himself.

—:—

AS SOON as there is the slightest suspicion of defective hearing your child should be examined by a physician and if his hearing is found to be subnormal he should be placed under expert care. The earlier corrective measures are started the better the results will be.

Q — Can a child catch any type of worms from playing with dogs or cats?

A—Although the belief that pets spread intestinal worms to people is common, there is no evidence that they do and much evidence that they do not. The benefits that a child will derive from caring for a live dog or cat far outweigh the remote hazard of his catching a disease from the pet.

Q—My daughter, 3, loves to tear up newspapers and put the scraps in her mouth. Would the print on the papers harm her? Could she choke on the paper?

A—An infant will put anything in her mouth that she can reach. This is her way of learning. Most children, finding newspaper not very appetizing, quickly turn their attention to other fare. Newspaper is made from wood pulp and the ink from lamp black with a solvent that has evaporated before your daughter gets around to chewing it. So the paper is not apt to make her sick.

She would be no more likely to choke on the paper than on anything else she puts in her mouth.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

500 Students To Be Guests At Kent 'Day'

KENT (Special) — Kent State University's branches and centers throughout northeastern Ohio wil play a key role in the 55th annual campus Day next month.

More than 500 Kent students from Ashtabula to New Philadelphia and Elyria to East Liverpool will be special guests for the oldest and largest student celebration, set this year for Saturday, May 11.

They will be among some 15,000 expected for the day-long event which features everything from a queen crowning and float parade to songfest competition and a concert.

Each of the branches and centers will be represented in the parade and the major events by their own queen.

Groups of visiting students will use the larger residence halls for their home away from home that day.

They have access to a large block of tickets for the concert featuring singer Tony Bennett, comedian Jack E. Leonard and drummer Buddy Rich.

All students will join in the mid - day barbecue and eat their dinner in the residence halls.

Canada Sees New Rivalry In Elections

OTTAWA (AP) — The Liberal party's choice of Pierre Elliott Trudeau as Canada's next prime minister has set the stage for a confrontation with the new Conservative leader, Robert Stanfield, in a national election later this year.

It will be a test of strength between two new personalities who are expected to give Canadian politics its biggest shot in the arm since John Diefenbaker and Lester B. Pearson began their rivalry a decade ago.

Both Trudeau and Stanfield are newcomers to the national political scene and are anxious to seek a mandate from the public which will bring an end to minority government under which Pearson has ruled for the past five years.

Trudeau was elected Liberal leader Saturday night on the fourth ballot after a coalition of middle-of-the-road and right-wing rivals failed to head off the youth-supported Trudeau bandwagon.

As leader of the ruling party, the 46-year-old Quebec Trudeau becomes prime minister when Pearson retires two weeks from now at the age of 70.

It was generally believed that Trudeau's policies will follow those of Pearson. He told a news conference, however, that there should be a thorough reassessment of Canada's foreign policy with a boost in foreign aid expenditures.

Workers Still Looking For Blast Victims

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP) — Weary searchers continue today tugging at the wreckage of buildings shattered by an explosion which struck the business area as shoppers crowded streets and shops.

Thirty-nine bodies had been recovered and 33 other persons were reported missing.

Fire followed the Saturday explosion in this eastern Indiana city and spread to adjacent buildings. Three buildings were destroyed and five damaged severely in a two-block area. Windows were shattered for blocks around.

More than 100 persons were injured. Eighteen remained in hospitals today, three in critical condition.

State police said the blast erupted in the basement of Marting Arms Co., a sporting goods store where gunpowder was stored for hunters and skeet shooters. Richmond Fire Marshal Fred Klotz said a large shipment of gunpowder reportedly was delivered to the store recently.

FBI agents said they were investigating the possibility of a gas leak as a factor in the explosion.

Rep. Bolton Held Hostage By Students

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Rep. Frances P. Bolton, R-Ohio, said she "never was really frightened" during 16 hours in which she and 11 other Tuskegee Institute trustees were held hostage by a group of angry Negro students at the Albama school.

The 83-year-old legislator, who is seeking re-election, returned to the Capital Sunday, following her release about 2 a.m., when the National Guard and state troopers approached the campus.

Mrs. Bolton said the students allowed her out to attend the dedication of a nursing center and to get some sandwiches then drove her back "to my temporary prison." She said they "were very polite."

The trustees were meeting Saturday morning in the Tuskegee guest house, Dorothy Hall, when the students padlocked the doors, chaining them shut. The students had a set of demands about ROTC training, visiting hours and other school administrative matters.

"Nobody actually talked about Dr. King," Mrs. Bolton said in an interview. "But we all knew that was behind it. Then, too, kids have a habit of feeling their oats in the spring and that helped . . .

"I had a certain faith and understanding of it all along and knew it would work out.

"I'm looking forward to my next visit to Tuskegee because I love those kids and I love that place . . ."

MCARTHUR, Ohio (AP) — Ernest Reynolds, 67, who lived alone about one mile west of here, died Sunday when fire swept his one - story home. Cause of the fire was not known.

Easter may fall any time within a 35 - day period running from March 22 to April 25.

Democrat Chairmen Favor John Gilligan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — County chairmen who met here Saturday favor John J. Gilligan in his bid to unseat Sen. Frank J. Lausche, says a top Democrat Party official.

Fifty six of the state's 88 county chairmen met for a campaign briefing and "if anyone favored Lausche they didn't say so," said Eugene P. O'Grady, executive director of state Democratic headquarters.

Sen. Frank Lausche Given Endorsement

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The Dayton Daily News in its Sunday editions endorsed Democratic Sen. Frank J. Lausche in his bid for renomination over his challenger, former Congressman John J. Gilligan.

The newspaper said Lausche, for the most part, has voted in the Democratic mainstream on civil rights and has supported the administration's foreign policy consistently. However, it praised Gilligan's "impressive record as a congressman."

Tonga's 325-pound monarch, Taufa'ahau, is an enthusiastic surfer, fisherman, and scuba diver.

Junior Editors Quiz on PETRIFIED TREES

QUESTION: How can a tree turn to stone?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: More than 150 million years ago, large trees of the kind called Norfolk Island pine crashed in the dense forests which in those days bordered the humid swamps of western Arizona (1). As years passed and land levels changed, sand and mud covered these forests; then shallow seas covered the mud (2). The water was rich in the mineral silica. As water penetrated into the cell structure of the tree trunks, the silica was brought in with it and, over a long period of time, replaced, cell by cell, the once living structure of the tree. Various minerals in the silica, such as iron and manganese, made colors which gave a life-like look to the tree trunks, now petrified, or changed to stone. With more ages of time, there was an uplift of land which made the Rocky Mountains. The tree trunks were thrown up and often cracked into sections (3). The seas drained away; running streams carried off the mud and sand. So, in picture (4), we find Marcia and Dick looking over one such petrified tree trunk which originally crashed as in (1). The scene is the Petrified Forest National Park in Arizona.

Thousands Of Ohioans Join In Tribute To King

By The Associated Press

Ohioans by the thousands joined Sunday in paying tribute to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., slain civil rights leader. Negroes and whites combined for interracial and interfaith services across the state.

Marches were held in many cities. Some 6,000 persons paid homage to Dr. King at a city-wide program Sunday afternoon in the state fairgrounds coliseum in Columbus.

Scores of other services to pay homage for the originator of nonviolence in the civil rights movement were scheduled today, Tuesday and throughout the week.

The 100 public schools in Cincinnati were closed today and Tuesday to honor the memory of Dr. King. The University of Cincinnati will suspend classes between 10 and 12 a.m. Tuesday, the time of the funeral.

Negroes in Columbus and Cleveland were asked by Congress of Racial Equality officials to remain off work during "Black Tuesday" in respect for Dr. King.

Hundreds of churches of all faiths devoted part of their Palm Sunday services to pay respect to Dr. King during the national day of mourning.

Speakers praised him. He was a man of "justice, love, righteousness," said the Rev. Arthur Zebbs at the Columbus Fairgrounds service.

Speakers urged Negroes and whites to follow Dr. King's nonviolent approach. Cleveland Mayor Carl B. Stokes, at a memorial service in Cory Methodist Church Sunday night, told a crowd of 1,700 that nonviolence did not die with Dr. King and promised "I'll listen to you" if his audience would bring problems to his attention.

There were no major disturbances reported in the state's big cities over the weekend. Stokes, a Negro, toured Negro neighborhoods three straight nights to help keep possible violence from erupting.

There were weekend incidents —rock throwing, window smashing, setting of fires—in Toledo, Columbus and other cities, but police called them minor. An 8 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew still remained in effect in Toledo.

Calm Returns To Chicago After Two Days Of Riots

CHICAGO (AP)—The national day of mourning for Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., whose slaying triggered two days of burning and looting in Chicago, passed quietly as memorial services were held in dozens of churches.

The calm was enforced by some 10,000 green-clad, helmeted soldiers who kept an armed vigil on the South and West sides where violence Friday and Saturday resulted in nine deaths and $10-million damage.

More than 300 persons were treated for injuries and some 1,800 were arrested.

About 300 persons were left homeless by the fires and most food stores in the riot area were burned, stripped by looters and closed. However, large quantities of food and clothing and offers to shelter poured in to collection centers to aid them.

Nearly 7,000 of the patroling soldiers were National Guardsmen ordered to duty Friday by Lt. Gov. Samuel Shapiro. The guardsmen were placed under federal control early Sunday as the first units of 5,000 federal troops from Ft. Hood, Tex., and Ft. Carson, Colo., began moving in.

These troops were ordered to Chicago by President Johnson at the request of Shapiro, acting for Gov. Otto Kerner who was vacationing in Florida.

Lt. Gen. George R. Mather, commander of the 3rd Armored Corps, was placed in command of the federal troops and the guardsmen. Mather toured the city Sunday and said, "Hopefully, (the situation) is over the hump."

By nightfall Sunday, most of the 5,000 federal troops were in armories and camped at park districts.

Mather said the continuing incidents on the South Side gave him "some cause for concern," but noted the disturbances Sunday were "mostly nonviolent, limited to looting."

Soldiers were still concentrated in the West Madison Street area. A three-mile section of the business thoroughfare was the primary target of arsonists and looters Friday.
